Thread: Quick Convo Tab Optional

Ruggzee - March 24, 2020, 3:40 pm

I made a thread earlier about about my personal issues with convos, more specifically quick convos here <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6059126>

From the iPhone it seems to be pretty glitchy. It also gets in the way sometimes.

My idea, if it is not already a thing, optional quick convo.

Is there or can there be a way to turn off the quick convo icon in the bottom right?

Thanks!

I'm working on improving the functionality of the Quick Convo feature based on some of the suggestions in the other threads.

Fair enough, would having the option to not have quick convo icon show up, ever be possible?

I'm fairly critical about bugs/design, but I haven't had a single issue using quick convos or the regular convo page on my iPhone. Are you using safari or chrome on your phone?

Hmm, I'm using safari. Yourself?

Since the whole convo system is new I am sure xerotic has some ideas to make it even better. But I must say other projects must be done first. This does not mean hackuman btw.

Yeah that is just my input. It is not a pressing issue by any means.

On mobile the Quick Convo button that normally sits in the bottom right corner has been removed. Now when you are using your mobile device (or narrow browser window) the navbar icon to access your Convos will open a quick convo page. From there you can access the full convo listing.

Can you make a button to go to the main chat instead of a tiny link

Yeah still more work to go on the Quick Convo (both mobile/desktop views) to tighten things up.
