Thread: Being born physically attractive gets you ahead in life. Change my mind.

b2plane - March 27, 2020, 3:23 am

Change my mind.

Literally any person who is naturally born physically attractive is already ahead in life primarily with girls and even business/money earning wise. i dont know why is this correlated to business. why do you think modeling is a thing? why are people applying for jobs to be a model? why are there no jobs for ugliness? yeah. you dont even gotta do or be shit in life as long as you look handsome.... what are your thoughts ?

Social Engineer - March 27, 2020, 3:26 am

I'm not going to change your mind because I feel the same way. Some real dumb asses with just a pretty face currently raking it in.

Xtreme™ - March 27, 2020, 3:40 am

Yes, I can't change your mind on this topic but according to me, Confidence is more important than looks. Life isn't fair.

I am not saying that looks aren't a plus or ugly people can have whomever they want as long as they have confidence, but I am saying that it's more important.

Exactly. I'm not disagreeing with you OP, because it sadly is true to a big extent, but with confidence and dedication you can achieve the same

Net - March 27, 2020, 3:45 am

Depends on what you're looking for. Yes, looks can take you somewhere, but only so far. Once you get to that line where looks don't matter anymore, trust me you're fucked.

Astrogen - March 27, 2020, 3:51 am

That's somewhat true in some cases but not really true for everyone. I've seen and knew a lot of people who are physically attractive yet they are struggling in their life.

that's the thing, if you are not handsome to a particular person then that person won't even bother to waste their time listening to your confidence, even if you are the most confident man in the world. This is exactly like companies who require a college degree - they won't even look at your CV if they see that you have no college degree, even if you are the most intelligent and hardworking person out of all of their employees.....

being born attractive is step number 0 and confidence is step number 1....

It's all a game of different people with different mindsets.

I don't personally like to differentiate anyone based on their looks. Everyone has their own SKILLSET'S

Yea if I was an interviewer at some company obviously I would need some degree or some minimum requirements. So in this scenario, I think it ain't wrong!

Anyway,
Stay In, Stay Safe!

Law of attraction brothers. Truly believe that you are physically attractive and then you will act like you are. When you act like you are, truly believing. Everyone else will think so too.

Mind paradox!

If you are a pretty kid, chances are really high you gonna become ugly AF.
young girls that look decent turn ugly as well.
Ugly girls become prettier, and smarter for a fact.

This is the truth, it's not just looks, so much about life is just down to dumb luck. Whether you're born smart, or rich, or whether you have health problems.....all just random chance.

James Burnham - March 27, 2020, 6:44 am

It's about playing your cards right. I see pretty people doing shitty jobs and I see ugly people becoming inspirational influencers, using their ugliness to their advantage.

It's mostly about intelligence, sad fact is that everyone wants to believe they 're intelligent when life proves otherwise.

WalterE - March 27, 2020, 7:09 am

I mean in your early life, yeah but when you're 20-30+ being confident is way more important. Being good looking cause confident in a lot of people, that's why but I guess you're right.

Social Engineer - March 27, 2020, 7:26 am

If they know how to use it to their advantage, they'll get very far. Male or female, looks [can] play a big role in succeeding.

Pain - March 27, 2020, 7:29 am

Being Ugly or Cute is subjective. Everyone has different tastes. No you are wrong, it only can get you so far. By that I mean, you can only go into modeling without having 0 knowledge . Even so, it is very competitive.... At the end of the day, you need to have something in your brain. You need to have ideas to make money and be successful.

Saying that, there's plenty of sugar babies out there with no brain, and sugar daddys to spoil them with thousands upon thousands.

Well then again they are using their mind and ideas. No one just wakes up and says I want a sugar daddy, they actually have to try and find one. This is basically a quid pro quo, the sugar daddy is paying for a service, he wants to spend time with a good looking girl and be intimate with one, and in return the girl wants money.

I mean it doesn't exactly require much of a brain to decide you want someone to pay for your things, and these sugar daddies aren't exactly hard to fool, they'd pounce on such opportunities anyway so doesn't require much thinking or talent.

Confidence is the key to success. looks can help and probably do though I can not relate to that personally as I have never thought about it. I just know with girls you can be fugly and as long as you have Confidence you can get with them. Not saying you will get the one person you want since that doesnt seem to work out but you will find you can get them if you can walk the walk and talk the talk with them.

Geralt - March 27, 2020, 8:55 am

Yes and No. If you are 9/10, you don't have to do anything because modeling agency will find one way or another. If you are just physically attractive but not model-like, you won't get far just with looks when it comes to money and career, sure you'll get girls but that's pointless, even ugly guys get them just not top looking chicks.

I can definitely agree with this. I've seen some real attractive females in high positions, and they are honestly dumb as a box of rocks. ?

Maskin - March 27, 2020, 9:54 am

The key is confidence.

Why attractive people are more successful is because they have more confidence than other people who are less attractive (in general).

SIM-3467872 - March 27, 2020, 10:00 am if you saying about the look then I dont think so because I have seen many people that changed the world even they were not attractive look wise but if you are talking about other attraction like kindness then yes it will surely get you ahead in your life.

Zinx™ - March 27, 2020, 10:13 am

Maybe with females and some guys. Its sad you get 1 face tattoo and no one will employ you

Photograph - March 27, 2020, 10:22 am

Being attractive is both a blessing and a curse.

It really depends on each individual.

It will get you attention, although it's not always the kind that you want.

I could see where this could be true, but take for example a bar. Who wants to hire ugly bitches?

SaintJimmy - March 27, 2020, 11:41 am

Not going to change your mind as I agree with you. I have had my fair share of prejudice over situations like these in professional life. Where there's some truth that looks like take you a long way but confidence and intellectual prowess is huge player with how far you go in life. An opportunity that blatantly rejects you based on physical appearances is certainly not the call you are waiting for. In the end, perseverance triumphs. Yes, it's a completely different case if you stop trying.

hfrocket1713 - March 27, 2020, 1:37 pm

OP I would say people definitely treat you different and socially you'll probably fit in more easily. That being said, I wouldn't call myself a handsome devil but I'm a lot more attractive than I was in HS. My face has lost it's baby fat and I've packed on probably 40lbs of muscle since then. I am treated A LOT differently now. People say hi to me more, girls look my way and flirt with me a lot more.

Being born physically attractive is just an advantage on our early life...but when you get on the right age still the knowledge, school attainment and experience that will matters most.

Being attractive will give just a bit of advantage but when knowledge will be shown I guess knowledge will prevail.
