Thread: Need some advice for monetizing a babe Instagram account with 20k+ followers

Time? - March 29, 2020, 8:54 am

I'm wondering which direction I should go with this. The account isn't all that active anymore (100-200 likes per photo), but the potential for growth is definitely there and I could likely make it much more active pretty quickly I'd assume. I was thinking of going down the eWhoring route, but not entirely sure of which route to take within eWhoring. Should I leave it as a general babes niche? Should I convert the account into 1 girl? Should I just do away with eWhoring and monetize it in some other way? Would love to hear some of y'all's ideas. Thanks!

I am currently growing an account in the same niche and it's currently at 1k followers more or less, started 10 days ago.

The only thing I could think of is selling shoutouts (but you'd need to regain activity smh), I don't know about the ewhoring stuff.

I'd love to get some tips aswell.

- Sell shoutouts to ewhores for lazy money.

- Add an adult CPA offer to your bio link and promote on your story 3 times a week and on a post twice a week.

You could search for a good paying CPA (SOI/DOI) adult offer, and add it in your bio with a text like "see me nude on this site".

Not very familiar with CPA. Do either of you have any suggestions for good networks in the adult niche?

I would definitely look into Maxbounty, they are perhaps the best network out there in my experience.

Furthermore they offer weekly payments after your first payment, NET30.

However, since it is mobile traffic you would be gathering you could look into more mobile targeted networks such as Mobidea and OGads.

Good luck!

Okay, so it depends on your objective.

Long story short if you want money; ewhore and if you want to grow your account and be a bit more legit keep it the way it is.

Knowing that you can make it an egirl account, grow it to 40k and turn it to a meme/babe account when you're done.

I've owned a 250k Instagram network (several accounts with the biggest ones being a freaky-ish meme page at 70k and an edits page at 120k) and growth was pretty good, I'd sell a few shoutouts a couple of times a week (either to brands, other smaller pages, sometimes even bigger pages and to egirls). So keeping it a babe page would mean you're wanting to grow it.

However, if you're objective is to make money, ewhoring is undoubtedly the way to go, so you'll have to turn it into a one girl account.

Iv made more in one week with a 5k ewhore account (several hundred $ a day) than I have with my 100k meme account. (about 50 a week)

Usually, babe accounts are pretty easy to grow but somewhere down the line engagement starts to die out because people usually make one time accounts in a period where they're very horny.

Anyhow, if you need more help pm me and i'll give you my instagram where il be happy to help :)

Awesome man, thanks a ton! Might take the eWhore route with it.

Edit; Your PM box is full. If you don't mind clearing it or adding my Discord (Time#1915) I'd love to ask you a few questions if you don't mind
