I truly have nothing to say here.

OP needs to confirm deals on site to make sure everything is aligned and straight forward.

Not just send random payments if and when he wants to. to a certain address that can always change.

All deals I do will be confirmed on site, you can ask anyone. This is the rules.

I will only use a contract to go off of-regardless of the situation and what you tell me elsewhere.

Please do not continue to be a hassle for me.

You literally just proved that you use carded accounts lol.. your info does not stay the same. Sad really lol...

DWC everyone and if you have already dealt with him, make sure you save screenshots incase the company in question contacts you.

OP confirm deals on site to make sure everything is aligned and straight forward before dealing with anyone!!

Just sent random payments to and if and when he wants to. to a certain address that can always change.

I deal with so many users per day, my "emails" do not stay the same.

All deals I do will be confirmed on site, you can ask. This is the rules, and not only that but it does make things much safer.

I will only use a contract to go off of-regardless of the situation and what you tell me elsewhere.

Please do not continue to slander false/falsifying information about me.
There's no company in "question" besides you and I btw.

With company I meant Paypal/Zelle/Cash app. I've been in this game for a long time and I've seen exchangers like you come and go.
