Hehlo, im 19 years old and have looked into EVERYTHING.

Dropshipping
affiliate marketing trading refunding
and thats about it

If anyone can help me out for free without trying to sell me their damn course lol. Please

Want to make 35k per year online :) what can I do :(

again unless anyone is actually become successful at any of above and can help me for free I would really appreciate it. Infact I would pay someone however much if I could actually make it to pay them with. Ive seen refunding potential but not 35k every year

That's quite an ambitious goal.

I'm not here to bring you down, honestly keep that spirit and energy, but, rarely, will you find someone who's going to spoonfeed you. (Like actual good & valuable information for free).

When it comes to making money online, the reality is, everyone is looking after their own backs. Everyone's hustling, and part of the hustle means to place a firm hold in some sort of business only after countless hours of research and diligent preparation.

This isn't a lecture, but a reminder, that there aren't really any new methods out there. There just been creative people out there who are really good at making those methods work for them.

Any start is better than none, and if you're actually serious about this, Amazon FBA programs seem to be the trend as of late.

Good Luck & Stay Safe

I am not in the position to help you with this income as i dont make it .But i would advise you to stay away from darkweb as i hear horrible things hapen to people just by navigating .Also if you are willing to pay the price you can make it with email marketing but again it takes a lot of time ,hard work etc and you are not sure you will succed
