I was hyped for re zero but it got pushed back

Nibsz - April 1, 2020, 12:21 pm

Tower of God released today and I really am enjoying reliving the hype all over again.

Oh, did it? I might have read about that. With this epidemic going around, I'm sure other anime this season will also be delayed at some point in time.

Yea I think they said in July it will air now instead. They made a directors cut of the first season as well having two episodes in 1 one with some minor changes throughout the show.

Oregairu, but it would have been Re;Zero! Though I love both, they are way different but both have great heroines!
