Hy guys.

Just found this old working .net crypter source and will share it with you.
I'm sure someone can use this for learning or use it for his own tools...

Make sure to leave a reply here on this thread!

Thnx Bruce!! i will use it.

EDIT: The operative system says: It's a virus, you can't open it...
What do you think that i have to do? and how can a know that the file is not malicious?

EDIT2: Downloaded and virus free.

I am looking for .NET code, do you have another source? xD

Yeah this is normal on cracking tools...
I always prefer hybrid analysis. There you can check the url and dns requests.
Sure have some more.. will upload soon :)

Looks fine, no comment on quality, not infected since this is source code. Good job for posting, any idea when it was originally written?
