Thread: Is receiving MoVo/GreenDot from Paxful safe?

Patriot - April 3, 2020, 9:17 am

I want to sell some BTC, and saw that people would pay a 9-20% premium for it on Paxful if they pay with the options listed above.

Anyone have experience if accepting strangers' payments for these types of methods is safe for my accounts?

I sold on paxful myself.

I learned one big lesson after some fag Zelled me fraud payment.

1. Treat a person behind a screen as if they are trying to screw you.

- ID + Selfie always.

This. Also they can send payment to an incorrecct name and have fun trying to claim.

One more thing ask for a screenshot of their cell phone! If you see anything that looks international on there like a different logo or carrier do not do business with them.

They use Sock 5 etc to appear in USA but that one way you can tell. If its not a USA based carrier id have more guard up.
