So I guess you are willing to refund if it would happen as you seem to be sure it will not be the case, ever?

So in short, IF anything goes south, do you agree to refund the buyer? I'll buy a few if that's the case or one if can't stack them.

Now refund will apply only to first 30days as i am certain you wont require a refund.

You can stack 2x at a time

Little curious if there's no legal issues and no chance of revoke why only warranty them for 30 days? Once used it should last the entire year it's not like the buyer can tamper with it once redeemed

Because on xbox your account can get banned for many other reasons
