Thread: Marketplace Violation ?

I been here on this forum for a bit I was just wondering I got a marketplace violation for a vouch just wanted to know is it because I vouched for a service that wasn't allowed on HF the person was offering 50% off Grubhub orders I purchased and he completed the order so I vouched typical stuff between seller and buyer.

Did your vouch have the "contracted customer" badge on it? If not, that's why.

One cannot vouch if a contract doesn't have a thread ID (tid) in it. Members that vouch must have a "Contracted customer" tag, otherwise vouch is invalid and is removed from the thread with a (possible) warning issued.

You didn't have that and you got warned. Next time PM a staff member to ask instead of making threads.

Thanks.
