Thread: What is your favourite quote? Why? crixus - April 9, 2020, 10:15 am

"In this country, you gotta make the money first. Then when you get the money, you get the power. Then when you get the power, then you get the women." Tony Montana

I have been rich and i have been poor now (lately because of the corona) and it makes sense more than ever.

when you rich is real power and you don't come from place of adversity when you talk to women.

I thought I had a stroke with the level of deja vu that just occurred lol. I was like, didn't I literally just reply to this thread? Why did OP change their name? lol. Regardless, here's my answer.

"What has surprised me most about mankind during the great war, is not our ability to adapt to the new arenas of conflict, but instead, our willingness in victory to so quickly return to the old."

--Former Director of Project Freelancer, Dr. Leonard Church

Even though it's a quote for a scifi narrative, I feel it is a universal truth being applied everyday by our governments.

"millionaires don't use astrology, billionaires do." - J.P. Morgan

I like this quote because it implies that there is esoteric knowledge that the general population of the world is in the dark about.

I know there's many variations of this quote, but this is from the movie Hitch, with Will Smith:
"Life isn't how many breaths you take, but it's the moments that take your breath away." - Will Smith.

Quote:Once men turned their thinking over to machines in the hope that this would set them free.
But that only permitted other men with machines to enslave them.
Frank Herbert

I think too many think that AI is what is going to enslave us. It won't be the AI, but the people that control the AI.

My favorite one is "You never know unless you try".
