Thread: Hackuman - Ruby Egg

Xerotic - April 10, 2020, 4:22 pm

Introducing.... Hackúman Ruby Egg!

Today we have introduced a red colored Hackúman egg that you can earn while posting on HF. This egg is less likely to appear than Emerald eggs, but they are more likely to appear than Sapphire and Gold eggs.

Hackúman hatched from the red color eggs are granted additional "special" attack usages per 24 hour period. These Hackúman can be crucial to turning the tide of a battle.

Enjoy.

When are you going to introduce the option to scramble your eggs, I'd prefer if they weren't alive.

Yeah i love it .. i have been lucky enough to win one tonight so when it's time and i can incubate him he will be going in and lets see what pops out

Lovely work Xerotic you just stepped it up another gear again .. Loving all these updates there is so much different things coming into this game it's great and brilliant for the forum ?

I've given up on the hunt of getting a blue egg so this is the next best thing. I haven't played in about a week because I know my green ones will just get dumped on.

Yin Yang - April 10, 2020, 4:38 pm

I'm seeing the Emerald in your OP instead of a ruby/red that you mentioned, but nice to hear and would be nice to get a rare one

Never mind, I cleared cache and now see it

I got the blue egg twice, but NuWorld and Lavish Living putting bounties on my special Hackúman, killed them all haha.

You'll get one eventually, keep posting in the Marketplace.

The Broker - April 10, 2020, 4:54 pm

this is interesting news!

Dorrance - April 10, 2020, 4:58 pm

I see you just let people incubate them now.

Edit: A user with the Ruby Egg said "When I click feed nothing happens, But it still uses my moves" @Xerotic@

Yeah keeping them alive is the hard part well the blues anyway you have to be very careful with the blue but end of the day the higher stat eggs can't kill as much

I just won another green egg lol .. It's a blue i want.. Mind you i honestly can't complain as i have a lot of kills and i could never have killed so many if i had high level hackumans ?

Yeah I guess more are tired of getting green ones who are weakling...but who know you might get a RATR on your green one now and will get some impressive stats.

But anyways let all keep grinding for the blue ones that are much more tough and stays longer than green and gold eggs =)

I guess compares it so some regular hackuman on green egg they were much more cool than others and they seems a bit cure as a pet lol.

Anyways we have to go on for the blue ones to get a decent stats for a hackuman =)

Keep grinding bro...hoping Stanley will surprise us with a blue one.

Now you can buy Invisibility potion, so your monster will last longer. The method is, you'll attack as many as you can, and then you'll hide yourself away. Repeat after 24 hours.

Agreed, it is a byte sink, but you can enjoy it.

Oh sad to say they were not tradeable nor can stay for long while...just for a week on your profile when you don't incubate it and raise the hackuman.

Just got my first Ruby egg, unfortunately it looks like I can't hatch it until previously found egg (in my case a Emerald one) is either hatched or lost

Yah, the only egg I see is green and asking me 10 bytes to incubate it. A selector would be useful.

Yeah that's the case mate what ever egg you won first has to be incubated . Maybe we might have an option soon to pick the egg to put in the incubator but to be honest the way it's set up i think it's pretty clever because the way it's set up you have to incubate that first egg then it's gone so then you can look for another because your forced to incubate that first egg so it's making way for new eggs and eggs are finally being incubated .. ?

It makes sense, this allows new pets to be continuously added to the game but from my point of view, I'd not hatch a green egg... it's just too weak

Well you just kill it mate its no big deal and it's not expensive to incubate the green egg yes it means using moves but that has to be done then you can incubate your next egg either if it's Ruby or Blue .. ?

Ombra - April 17, 2020, 2:07 pm

Agreed. Even if at this point I believe only 2 kinds of eggs are worth hatching: Sapphire and Gold

Yea I'm probably not gonna hatch anymore green ones until I have to

Introducing.... Hackúman Ruby Egg!

Today we have introduced a red colored Hackúman egg that you can earn while posting on HF. This egg is less likely to appear than Emerald eggs, but they are more likely to appear than Sapphire and Gold eggs.

Hackúman hatched from the red color eggs are granted additional "special" attack usages per 24 hour period. These Hackúman can be crucial to turning the tide of a battle.

Enjoy.

oh dang, are do the little rats come out of the Red one?

I would disagree there . Gold only lives for maybe 24 hours or a little longer will cost you 500 bytes to bring it out.. Will cause some serious damage but bare in mind you only have 150 attacks per 24 hours .. How long will he live not long as his heart stats are just a ticking bomb waiting to die .

Sapphire yeah good egg look after him early on can kill a lot do a lot of killing cross level 10 to 12 it's not so good sit on page 1 or 2 all your doing is using bytes feeding you can't kill much because everyone around you is either to strong or sitting on a higher level .

Having four green eggs or a few ruby eggs is great you can do so much damage with those 4 as you can attack nearly nearly 20 pages compared with having a blue or gold you can only attack the 1st or second page depending on the level of your blue ..

Everyone on here seems to think it's winning if you sit on page one well how can it be all your doing is spending bytes and hardly killing ..

How many on the front page and second page has killed 50 HUM NONE what does that tell you figures don't lie stats don't lie ..

But don't take any of this personally mate i'm just pointing out a few things regarding different eggs and how the game is going

Good luck in your playing tho ?

I would have to agree with this.

I'm the 3rd member to get the 50 HUM kill award.

All with just using green eggs.

Xerotic - April 17, 2020, 2:31 pm

BTW I'm still thinking about the concept of eggs being used to supplement existing monsters. The existing alternative naturally being to hatch the egg itself.

But it would be locked to a monster hatched by that same egg type. So green eggs could supplement green egg-hatched monsters, etc.

Imagine the interesting dynamic that would add. If you post a lot and earn a bunch of green eggs you might be able to use them to power up a single HUM to make them more competitive with higher level HUM.

It would make every egg you get valuable. You wouldn't feel like you are "wasting" an egg. Because you'd be able to use it to power up an existing HUM. Imagine if you somehow got two gold eggs at the same time and used one to power the other up. ?

That's awesome, thinking of the possibilities this could be used for.

WoW and there you go another super update that just throws this game upside down again . Yeah now people can look at these so called 'weak' eggs and think well if i can get another i'm in with a very good shout and this kinda is very clever because your basically getting members to incubate these green eggs and there is hope now .

I just can't believe what this game has as in updates is totally mind blowing who would have thought you could basically add 2 green eggs together it's amazing

Xerotic you absolutely surprise me all the time with these updates that will come .. Great job your doing ?

What you say is correct, good point.

But, let me add, the main problem on page 1 is that it's full of people from the same crew. If you reach that page and there's nobody to back you, you're dead. I'd feed my pet with other ones if they all weren't inside Monopoly

Yes i understand that as well hence why climbing to that page is pointless just now but if you pick up 2 greens and double blues then page 1 could be in some trouble . All it takes is to take 1 of those guys down with a double blue egg or double ruby what ever you have so that's 1 less sitting on the front page if you get killed well fair enough you grind for more eggs do the same again take 1 out you will get killed repeat soon they will be all gone those guys wont last for ever and tonight with what we have just been told is a massive game changer .. ?

I would agree with both of you.

Everyone thinks page 1 is winning.

However I don't see anyone on page 1 with the award.

I received my award by all green eggs.

In fact I killed the very first gold egg with a green egg.

This being said level count doesn't do it.

Stats don't lie.

Looking forward to this possible new feature.
