Thread: HELP ME!!! I WANT TO HACK A GOOGLE CLASSROOM!!

JaguarRad - April 14, 2020, 3:21 pm

Hi. The quarantine is weighing me down too much and more in the academic field, the teachers leave a lot of work and really the infrastructure in my country is not the best so that we can work online.

I have thought of creating a botnet to make a DDoS to the page of my Faculty and thus throw it away, leading to the classes being canceled entirely. But I am a beginner and I do not have much money to be able to elaborate this plan.

So I find myself needing to just drop my classes in google classroom but I have no idea how. If anyone knows of someone selling a cheap method or can help me achieve my goal it would be great. Thanks for reading me.??

Target: Google

Budget: Cheap

Yeah, good luck dude!

So are you trying to DDoS your school's Google Classroom to shut down online classes/classes all together?

You are in school to learn not to screw around, if school isn't for you then go get a job now start your life.

Unfortunately there's probably nothing you can do. You can't "ddos" your "google classroom", you'd have to ddos google...

Unless you get access to your teacher's accounts and manually delete everything but if you are even able to get this far they'd prob be able to recover the account very quickly and have no problem in posting all your assignments and setting up another classroom... just do your work man
