Thread: Just started OSRS 6 hours ago... I made 3M~ and have a Clue Scroll \(F2P\)

I don't know if I got lucky, but I got 700K in three drop parties, 2M in trivia along with 5K Chaos runes and 5K Mind runes by guessing which State somebody is from. Shortly before all of this I got a clue scroll by mining copper. I'm almost at a bond on my first day lmao. I almost managed to get a total of 150 skill points already. :)

It's going to take me a whole week if I don't find another drop party or trivia. :') damn m8 u can almost get yourself a bond ! lucky!

Rhythmatic - April 20, 2020, 9:39 am

I have already gotten three clue scrolls and it hasn't even been 24 hours... Is this normal?

Zzzzy - April 20, 2020, 9:57 am

Yeah beginner clue scrolls are pretty easy to get. They are probably the easiest way to get money for a bond in f2p. Since you are training your stats + getting a chance at getting decent money.

Keep begging around and you'll make a full time job out of Runescape.

I never begged anyone for anything. The fuck are you talking about?

311 total skill on my second day. Is that good?

Vets - April 21, 2020, 7:10 am

Are you sure that you just started the game? lol

Snory - April 21, 2020, 7:17 am

So f2p clue scrolls are a waste of your time. Try not to get demotivated because if you actually try to make money with skilling at your levels you'll make nothing compared to your social rewards.

Now that you've got some gold you should spend some of it on your account, level up, buy that next pickaxe, buy a set of mith armor and grind to wield it.

Since you're making money from social stuff be careful of scammers, they're everywhere.

Do you have the bond yet?

Members often go to f2p worlds and drop random rune items. Happens pretty much everyday lol.

Is GP even worth anything anymore? Lmao it's ridiculous... literally a random came up to me earlier today and traded me 100K, out of nowhere!

Anywhere from .70-80 a million depending on where you go. My new hobby is staking with a maxed staker

It's worth quite a bit. So if I win 100m duel I just made $70 lol
