Thread: [\[Official\] The Brotherhood Returns](#)

SaintJimmy - April 20, 2020, 1:29 pm

Announcement

The Brotherhood is back under the Leadership of Nuworld and Sick respectively. Everything will be unfurled over the next couple of days when everything is set in place. The Group is Invite Only as of now and a lot of exciting things are planned ahead. For those of you that have never heard of the Brotherhood, you can read about some history below.

About

The Brotherhood is a group of individuals who are bound by loyalty to exercise their skills, knowledge, and time, which will encourage the acts of assisting oneself and others.

History

The Brotherhood was created by Cryptic on June 24th, 2013. It was one of the oldest group on HF (aside from the Red Lions at that time) and sponsored a ton of things over the years. One of the most remarkable contributions the group brought to HF was the BHSS program. During 2013-2014 The Brotherhood hosted a "Spy Squad" program that worked towards exposing members who were multi-accounters, account sellers, and account buyers. You can view the original recruitment thread here. Led by Connected, the program was hugely successful. The group also had dedicated Whitehat and Crypto sectors (led by Aura & Lookin).

Back on July 15, 2016 Cryptic decided to turn Brotherhood into the group called Synergy as he got tired of it, only to bring it back after a few months. This iteration of the group was different from the original one and while it did return most of the member base, it failed to recreate the success of the original group. The group was sold to Vyrez in late 2017 when Cryptic graduated from University, while still retaining the whole rights to group livery. A few days ago Cryptic decided to handover the rights to Nuworld who has since decided to bring the group back for good.

Can't say about News Threads or Wiki, but a simple search for threads here at HF brings up your involvement with the group. :) Were you a Sector leader at some point?

Good to see the group is back. Brotherhood and (going back quite a bit) The Alliance that I was ever in that really stood out to me as quality and worthwhile.

I was looking for the signature generator. Unfortunately it seems like the code isn't there where Cryptic expects it to be. Let me if you can help me set it up. Just drop me a PM or message of the

Not really, it was "-Nas" and today it's "Nas" if you couldn't determine that it's the same person from reading the wiki then I don't know what to say.

Yes kick everyone and rebrand it as instinct, because we all know that's the only group that can be revived, since it was always LQ.
