Thread: Happy Birthday HF

Omniscient - April 21, 2020, 9:30 am

Today HF was born 13 years ago. It's now the same age as some of its members. ? It's been a long wonderful journey and I'd like to thank all the members who have been here through those years. It takes a webmaster to build a website. It takes members to build a community. I'm rather proud of what we have all achieved. From the trolls that entertain us to the ebook writers helping members make fortunes ?all the way to the HF socialites that have personalities bigger than life (Lavish Living that's you). Each member that's joined has contributed in a small way.

Sitting at my desk this morning and almost immediately realizing that April 21st is the Birthday shows me how connected I am to this site. And based on the many messages I get I know some of you are as well. HF ain't just a site for us to type into the browser. It's a place where we meet friends, find joy, learn new things, explore interests, and even make money. Some days we laugh and others we rage. Yet still the next day we show up to experience it all over again. Each day like a new breathe with opportunities abound.

During these very weird times of Covid-19 and the vast amounts of us in lockdowns this is our biggest outlet to the world. It's a social hub where we connect to each other. I'm so glad I've had HF here to keep me company and maintain sanity, even if this place drives me nuts sometimes.

Happy Birthday HF! And thanks to everyone. Please enjoy this day. Give out some Quick Love. ?

Ayyy! Happy birthday. For real....how does it feel after all these years?

html - April 21, 2020, 9:31 am

Happy birthday HF, I'm glad I found this Forum. I met a lot of awesome people and most importantly, I learned a lot on here.

Thanks, Omni!

mrknol - April 21, 2020, 9:32 am

Wow, can't believe HF has been around for 13 years. Hats off to you omni for keeping this website up and maintaining it. Happy birthday Hack Forums.

Amazing, can't believe i've been here since 2010. Happy b day HF!

SaintJimmy - April 21, 2020, 9:35 am

Happy 13 Years HF. It's certainly been a long journey. Kudos to you Omniscient for having running this forum for such a long time. Does this occasion call for any special member rewards yet?

SIM-3257834 - April 21, 2020, 9:36 am

Sounds like you need to give HF the talk about you know what.

Yin Yang - April 21, 2020, 9:37 am

Happy anniversary to HF!

13 yrs is a great milestone and accomplishment.

Demize - April 21, 2020, 9:37 am

13 years is a long time, congrats on having such a successful site

Omniscient - April 21, 2020, 9:39 am

Quote:Ayyy! Happy birthday. For real....how does it feel after all these years?

It feels like each year that passes I'm somewhat flabbergasted we made it another year. I have seen so many sites come and go in this time and even more recently a few huge sites just close up. I suppose that means I'm still making good decisions running this place and I just hope I can continue to do that. The past couple years with Xerotic has created a new level of development and improvement that hasn't been here for many years. I just want to keep my head down and move forward.

BikerDude - April 21, 2020, 9:41 am

Happy birthday HF, I'm glad I found this Forum! Good Luck

SecretAchiever101 - April 21, 2020, 9:41 am

Are you going to retire for good any time soon? And if so what's next? Another site/ forum ongoing?

SoulZeh - April 21, 2020, 9:41 am

I'm glad to legit be apart of this website, glad it's still going strong and I still cannot believe it's been a part of my life for nearly 10 years now, I'd consider myself an OG now..

Lovely words though boss.

Eagle 95 - April 21, 2020, 9:43 am

I can't bare this. You're gonna be even more annoying now that you were mentioned in the OP of this thread.

Congratulations HF. I hope we'll take another 13 years. Feels funny to almost have been a part of 11 years of them.

Have almost been a member for half my life. Let's see what the future will bring for the forum.

HF really started taking shape in 2009 with the community buzzing with enthusiastic members. I remember I had to earn my way into first l33t and later ub3r. Getting in groups was no easy task either. Good times. Omni i salute you for staying strong all these years.

FYI one of my oldest forum accounts I have still open is from 1999 at Anandtech. That site used to be huge. Was started by a 14 year old teenager (Anand Lal Shimpi). But site was sold and is no longer run by the original creator.

Would be super awesome to go 20 years. It almost feels possible.

But they sort of break the lines and flow of most text. Also we'd have to do some fancy js/css to make it happen. Probably not going to bother.

Sitting at my desk this morning and almost immediately realizing that April 21st is the Birthday shows me how connected I am to this site. And based on the many messages I get I know some of you are as well. HF ain't just a site for us to type into the browser. It's a place where we meet friends, find joy, learn new things, explore interests, and even make money. Some days we laugh and others we rage. Yet still the next day we show up to experience it all over again. Each day like a new breathe with opportunities abound.

During these very weird times of Covid-19 and the vast amounts of us in lockdowns this is our biggest outlet to the world. It's a social hub where we connect to each other. I'm so glad I've had HF here to keep me company and maintain sanity, even if this place drives me nuts sometimes.

Happy Birthday HF! And thanks to everyone. Please enjoy this day. Give out some Quick Love. ?

Happy, happy birthday to HackForums. Here's to many more!

Mix - April 21, 2020, 7:51 pm

Hack Forums has entered the teenage years. Everyone screams and runs!

On a very serious note, This site has become so much is so little amount of time, I know you Omni want to make this site everything and we all can see that in the community. The trolls who have been here forever and the real deal people who are here yet some are gone have made this site what it really is today and for that, I want to say thank you to you Omni for making this site and bringing it so far. Happy birthday, Hack Forums!

Here are some screenshots of HF's homepage throughout the years thanks to web archive:

Enjoy the nostalgia, sorry if some of the assets weren't archived but I tried ?

2008 (Click to View)

2010 (Click to View)

2012 (Click to View)

2014 (Click to View)

2016 (Click to View)

Honestly, after looking through these screenshots you really see how clean and modern HF currently looks. Looks much sleeker with a fresh design. I remember the days browsing HF during 2012 and I would have never imagined it looking like this after 8 years. Especially with the new profile system and game/award events going on. Really impressed by how HF evolved and advanced after all these years. Keep up the amazing work Omniscient and Xerotic .

Happy Birthday, HF!

Glad to still be active here after 11 years. I joined this site back in 2009 when it was only 2 years old (a baby :P).

Many more years to come, hopefully!

Same. I remember you. Actually I almost remember everyone from that "era". lol

I have seen so many sites come and go in this time and even more recently a few huge sites just close up. I suppose that means I'm still making good decisions running this place and I just hope I can continue to do that. The past couple years with Xerotic has created a new level of development and improvement that hasn't been here for many years. I just want to keep my head down and move forward.

Yes you are. Xerotic is definitely adding a lot of value as well! You're always making good decisions and you know that. ?

Skorp - April 21, 2020, 10:29 pm

Definitely a strong and great achievement as each year passes by (swiftly). Big thanks to you Omniscient for holding it down for us members to collectively grow with one another and most importantly, giving us a platform to allow growth for this unique community to thrive on. 13 years down, ???? years left to go!

Thank you.

Uft well done, As they say hard work pays off in the end, I remember coming here when I was a kid mainly cause I wanted to learn hacking, Although that never happened due to school commitments at that time. I have learned some great experience in subject matters that were once a part of HF and not anymore.

it also shows how we were all once just regular members but overtime evolved with the website,

Although before HF omni what was your job before starting this what did you do?

Cameron - April 25, 2020, 4:47 am

Happy late birthday HF. Congratulations to Omniscient and all of the staff members for the hard work and dedication that has paid off for the site since its beginning. You have allowed many people in the world to capitalize on learning to make money, expanding their knowledge with computer software in general, and gaining connections. The development work (especially for MyBB), to which I have seen, especially with addons is quite advanced and I would like to tip my hat to those whom implemented them.

Pretty cool for HF to still be around, and very glad that Omni still puts the effort in to make HF a great place for its community. I also would like to commend Omni for his growth with the community as the Webmaster, it's the reason HF is still going whilst nearly every potential competitor has died out.

I've never understood why members request account closure when HF has played a big role in their lives, I'm not as active as I once was but I still check in, keep in contact with my HF buddies I've made on my journey here, and find HF useful in my day to day life so yeah that kind of baffles me but to each their own.

Anyway, Cheers to HF's 13th year albeit I'm a little late hehehe.

Good day everyone.
