He can ask also you to stop inviting him to join his crew like he's been asking every other group leader cause let's face it that everyone wants him in their group.

Damn! He's one step ahead. Atleast he's adding more value to the bytes and creating a marketplace with such options.

Maybe cause the page being loaded is too long.

On a more serious note, I don't think there's any real purpose - just everyone having some fun here...? :o

Same here.. I guess he did that after not winning the 25k Bytes after purchasing 9 awards at once.
He even said (jokingly) that he'd charge back the awards' money if he didn't win. I guess he went nuts and changed his username to cry anonymously haha. Weird guy, I think.

I think you got the numbers wrong buddy. It's way too higher. Add a zero more and swap some numbers from the front.

Money always can't buy happiness but it sure can buy you 6 blue Hackuman eggs to help you get 50 kills for another award.

Not sure. I wouldn't surprised if Lavish would be the first one to get two of them for killing twice more than the required count. Technically he shouldn't be able to since it's a system generated award (goal).
