Thread: Steal someone's Steam inventory

Kayambafa - April 23, 2020, 6:49 am

Hi everyone,

I'm totally new in hacking and I wanted to know how can I get access to someone's PC and automatically send a trade offer to my own Steam account with all his inventory ?

If you guys can help me, I'll be really grateful.

sorry bud but you can't just do that when you're totally new to hacking. there is just a lot of advanced stuff to learn in order to do that, you can't just do it like that. if u wanna start to learn how to hack then do it from the beginning and then work up from there.

Jeez, what's in his inventory that's worth going through all the trouble?

In any case, based on how you described it, your best bet is a RAT or a remote administration tool.

Q. Is it free?

A. Some are, most aren't. Haven't used one in ages.

Q. Where can I possibly get one?

Q. Is it easy to use?

A. Depends if you know what you're doing. The software itself is very easy to use. Sending it to your victim is the tricky part.

Q. Is it worth my investments if ever?

A. For Steam inventory items? Not entirely sure. For other things you can get from the victim? Perhaps.

Good luck buddy.
