DISCLAIMER

On most of the voting sites, the votes reset every 30 days. This eliminates huge servers from being #1 for years but also makes it to where we can flood 5k votes the first day and be ranked up pretty high. That is why we have a preorder system.

FAQ

What will votes do for my ranking?

On most servers lists(all of these) votes, have a direct relation to how high your ranking is. For example, on-site it mentions this fact

The score of each server is updated every 10 minutes.

Your score is based on the following values:

Server uptime

How long since your server is registered here

Votes

Achievements bonus

Advanced query bonus

Now that we know this. while we can't change certain values, we can change votes, and in independent testing we found out that roughly 1 vote = 0.777251185 score which makes these really useful. You could for example on the first day, get 5k votes, and then be #1 while other people are trying to get votes and make it look like you're trending.

Is this safe, or against TOS?

Technically it is against TOS but the way we do it makes it look natural with user agent and referrer switching along with residential proxies. We have had no bans or warnings with this for over 3 months and we have sent thousands

Is there a refund policy?

Yes, after we start your order, in under 24 hours, then unless we fail to deliver, there are no refunds.

Hello, is there any possibility you would be able to do something similar for another game and website?
