I am currently facing some issues with netwire

- But if i try to set port to listen to incoming connections it says error

I have tried everything i know still problematic

Any help?

It means some other app is using that port, try with some other port and see if you still get this error.

Did you already ask to their support?? what is their response about your issue? sometimes they have quick support, sometimes they dont and usually take an entire day before they reply.
