gamblers crashing, "No surprise" and now trying to do a reboot?

OP couldn't even control his own pink group and now he wants more misery with a different color group?

I never though of changing colors would change ones well being.

With age come's wisdom buddy, something you wouldn't understand.
You can fool some but you can't fool everyone.

You talk the big talk but can't follow through and back up your claims.
You still think money buys everything/happiness?

Reality check! It doesn't.

I paid x5 what Bromden paid for his color, supposedly. Not everyone paid as much as I did for the recolor. I hope MMLF didn't pay as much as I did, 3 times over Divined sold Divine for $2k, I was tryna buy it but didn't have the funds.

Literally is 8 groups with color username. Bowman did not pay for a color username, I have his group. His group was formerly owned by that mentor divide or what ever. If it had a color username I would have it own now which it doesn't. Everyone paid around the same for a color username all I will say. Some may got it for cheaper, but the more groups with it the less value it will hold.
