Looks like Havij with a New UI. Is there a way to import our own custom payloads to improve the detection and WAF bypass?

You can put your exploit but you need to rewrite it for get it work with it

It's more powerful that Havij because you can mass-test sql injection and etc to a lot of url.

Yikes! So this file is infected! Thanks for the heads up!

liljohn407 - June 14, 2020, 11:10 am

Thank you for this! Seriously helped me out big time.

That virustotal link is indicating that the file contains a clipbanker trojan which means there's ransomware packed in that file.

Not bueno.

Tsomorfo - February 19, 2026, 2:25 am

I need this, thx bro

Diabolical

MadScientist - February 20, 2026, 2:38 pm

Thanks to the user pointing out the file is binded to malware for other users safety, it's probably a crypto clipper/banking malwalre rather than ransomware ?

floredd - August 20, 2026, 6:39 am

but the posted link is dead since 6 years
