Thread: What search engine do you use?

cola - April 30, 2020, 7:19 pm

I use duckduckgo. I like it because it cares about privacy and because in my experience it's gave me more relevant results for my searches than google.

SecureOp - April 30, 2020, 7:26 pm

Why not just use Quora? I am too lazy to type duck duck thingy as well! ?

aNeek - April 30, 2020, 8:10 pm

I use google because of how long I've used it and how familiar / (consistent?) it is.

I'm aware that other search engines would benefit me, and maybe others (the tree one) but i still use google, i wonder why the brain does that by default.

From a google search ?

DuckDuckGo is an internet search engine that emphasizes protecting searchers' privacy and avoiding the filter bubble of personalized search results. DuckDuckGo distinguishes itself from other search engines by not profiling its users and by showing all users the same search results for a given search term.

Xerotic - April 30, 2020, 10:45 pm

I like using Google. I try to keep up with their search display so that I know how best to work the SEO as a developer.

IPIKIN - April 30, 2020, 11:05 pm

I just use google. Much easier to find things

Theocritus - April 30, 2020, 11:12 pm

Searx normally

Google if I'm curious about anything Page Ranks.

Rally the Bulls - April 30, 2020, 11:47 pm

People are using anything other than Google? (With the exception of duck duck go for specific privacy needs)

Luca - May 1, 2020, 1:22 am

Don't we all use Google? Maybe some use DuckDuckGo I guess.

bevc - May 1, 2020, 1:27 am

Ecosia, or google sometimes for reference.

When searching for information on the internet, I try to use many search engines so as not to "limit" my results.

But I usually use DuckDuckGo in addition to google?

a11s - May 1, 2020, 1:31 am

Google.

I'm too familiar with it to change now.

Xtreme™ - May 1, 2020, 1:37 am

Google.

I find whatever I search on it and don't require a change as of now!

What is so special about duckduckgo other than the privacy aspect?

Stay Home, Stay Safe!

Cheers!

humanbody - May 1, 2020, 3:21 am

I switch between duck duck go and google. Bust most of the time I am using google. But I do like duckduckgo.

MrJamesDean - May 1, 2020, 3:22 am

I mostly use Google but sometimes DuckDuckGo too, especially if it's security related because Google just pushes silly blogs and sites on me that are not useful.

Exalted - May 1, 2020, 3:37 am

Google for most of my basic web searches, DuckDuckGo for when I need a bit more privacy and Bing for porn.

Geralt - May 1, 2020, 3:41 am

Google. I don't think they give a fuck what some average Joe is doing. Unless you are balls deep into some illegal shit.

RIP Juice WRLD - May 1, 2020, 3:44 am

I'm trying to get a habit of using DuckDuckGo, but I'm just using Google at the moment.

Same for me, Google is still much more powerful and efficient than DDG so I use both

Hero - May 1, 2020, 6:22 am

I only use google mate. Everything else is a meme and just straight up useless.

4dik - May 1, 2020, 9:56 am

I use google as my main search engine but I use Bing just to get the awards ahah

BruteForce ? - May 1, 2020, 10:18 am

I have always used Google, it does the job well. However, duckduckgo is the solution if you are seeking anonymity while browsing.

shitmaster - May 1, 2020, 10:26 am

I use Google. But I'll never do a search on browsers I'm logged in. They are shit when it comes to privacy. Unfortunately they are the best at what they do.

R A Z - May 1, 2020, 4:34 pm

i'm using google , but when i search for illegally things i will use duckduckgo

Bob White - May 1, 2020, 4:41 pm

Depends on where I'm at and what I am doing. At home on my home gaming pc just good old google.

If I am doing anything other than normal, Tor and DuckDuckGo of course.

Just depends on the subject matter and my location, and my intent lol.

Sometimes you NEED google to find the right stuff, and duck sometimes does not give me the desired results.

When I was young it was askjeeves.com and lycos.com and yahoo search that were the popular search engines, I remember when Google was a startup and I laughed at it, look at it now!

Zoomers - May 1, 2020, 4:46 pm

I use duckduckgo on phone for annonymity ya feel mee :). Google chrome for computer. I tried brave before, but for some reason I could never adopt to it. Change back to chrome really fast.

Zee - May 1, 2020, 4:49 pm

I usually use Google for my searches, their indexing is far beyond any other search engine imo. however, I haven't really tried any other out as I haven't had any troubles with their search engine.

Yin Yang - May 1, 2020, 6:31 pm

I use Google for the most part

Moxxi - May 1, 2020, 7:08 pm

google cuz its easy and I might as well just use them

Sprinkle - May 1, 2020, 9:05 pm

My OCD just doesn't let me rest with the doubt of me seeing all of the possibilities if I am not using Google

SaintJimmy - May 1, 2020, 9:19 pm

Google and Duckduckgo. It really depends on what I am searching for. I have set my phone to use Duckduckgo as well. It's log-less, private and relevant than Google in case of some results.

My main one on my phone is Bing because of the points and on desktop it's Chrome because...it's Chrome.
