Thread: How have you taken advantage of this time?

Salacity - May 4, 2020, 6:41 pm

This is a horrible time for lots of people in the world but as unfair as it might be its been a silver lining for me. I've taken the time to better myself(physically and mentally), learn about affiliate marketing, real estate, I even started a garden.

What about you? What have you done? ?

IPIKIN - May 4, 2020, 7:39 pm

Done some work in the backyard and get on my grind more

Sprinkle - May 4, 2020, 9:13 pm

You can definitely use this time as an opportunity to accomplish those tedious tasks you may not have ever done unless you reached such a state of boredom. Strive to come out of this as a better person than you entered

Kant Atta - May 4, 2020, 9:16 pm

I've been really productive lately. I have done a lot of work on several projects I have ongoing. Currently working on another project for HF ?

I read a lot, I try to catch up on my hobbies. If I get back to work soon, I may not have enough time for self-realization so I use as much as I can?

rSM- - May 5, 2020, 12:31 am

Finally been able to do what I didn't have time to do for years, and thats relax. I'm always on the go for either work related things, events, and all sorts of shit but never really had time to myself like I do now. I'm still trying to stay active as much as I can, but it definitely feels like a weight off my shoulders that I don't have to worry about how full my plate is every day like I did prior to this pandemic.

So you're having online classes and all that? How do they prevent cheating on test?

They don't but most of my classes don't ask for multiple choice questions. Most of them will have problems for you to solve or questions that require for you to know the material. Currently just taking accounting and business classes.

They don't. We just use MS Forms and that's it. At least that's how our school does it. It's the best.

Ombra - May 5, 2020, 2:39 am

OP you're doing well. I'm playing with PHP and data analysis instead.

Exalted - May 5, 2020, 4:40 am

I've been doing chores around the house, and I try to increase my programming knowledge by the day.

Nice! C# is lovely and not that hard of a language to get started with, good luck to you too ?

Sam Winchester - May 5, 2020, 5:06 am

Corona outbreak has had good and bad effects in my life. It sucks that I have to skip the gym and workout outside which I don't like that much, but at least I'm getting lots of fresh air every day. I'm also a lot more conscious about how I spend my money.

Yin Yang - May 5, 2020, 5:08 am

Just been brushing up on some technical skills and learning new coding stuff.

humanbody - May 5, 2020, 5:35 am

Well I feel bad for everybody that lost their jobs or the ones that cant work and just get extremely low payment. But I've never been affected by this since I work online. So I am pretty much working all the time, then I spend around 1 and a half hour to workout to keep me going and thats pretty much it.

I am WFH for my company.

WFH == lotta work (don't know why)

while my brother's routine....

wakes up.

turns on computer.

repeat.

I found a course on Udemy (warez disallowed) called "Selenium WebDriver With Python 3.x - Novice To Ninja" since I already have some good experience with python I choose this one but this course also offers basics of python from the beginning.

yea I have seen many people using javascript for automation...

you can adapt to any language if you have understand how programming works, would just take a week to learn the syntax

Come on guys you can do it! It only takes is a few minutes a day!

You dont need to do something all day, do it brick by brick, day by day!
