i mean then don't feel guilty, i kind of have the same philosophy. if i can't afford something and i need it, i'm going to steal it, but when i can afford it later in life, i'll pay for it.

i used to torrent antivirus subscriptions and now i just pay for them because i can.

Hey, you could be the guy who made it possible to download it ;)

GATeRBATeR - May 5, 2020, 3:50 pm

Then I should be feeling guilty for a LOT of things I guess.

hahaha i am dead homie the real question is though how much is 200gb? you watching it in high def or stenderd definition hahahah and hey would you consider youself a weeboo or just some dude who like anime?

Hero - May 5, 2020, 4:28 pm

Im pirating all stuff i watch nowadays except for disney+. I'll use my fathers account.

Ombra - May 6, 2020, 1:40 am

You can do as you deem, think if you were the producer behind those anime you downloaded. That's all money you're losing.

Anyway, most producers (especially for movies) already consider that there will be a loss in sales due to piracy, that's why they push to incorporate ads (e.g. cans of coke / known t-shirts etc) inside movie scenes, so that no matter how you got access to the movie, you're still watching ads that's inside scenes.

I thought you felt guilty just because you downloaded 200 GB of anime, apart from the "stealing" part

You should feel guilt for watching anime, yes.

Exactly. I wonder when OP will have the money to repay the service.

Deany - May 6, 2020, 1:49 am

Delete it immediately. Anime will ruin your life.

Beherit - May 6, 2020, 1:54 am

200GB, must be some quality stuff. Send them an apology letter informing them of what you did.

Awful, at least have some taste and download 200GB of hentai.

Professor Pantsu - May 6, 2020, 5:46 am

200GB is pretty small time if you're talking hq anime, pretty sure my cardcaptor sakura torrent was over half that alone. as long as you're actually buying merch of the stuff you like you shouldn't feel guilty. personally I think torrenting anime then buying physical releases (or other official merch) is much better than paying for a streaming service that rarely updates their anime with the BDs when they come out.

SIM-4460064 - May 6, 2020, 8:40 am

Literally just invest in figures of the favorite anime you download.
Fuck paying for shit before I know the quality of the series.
And fuck anime reviews, shit is 100% subjective.

Masonvv - May 6, 2020, 8:01 pm

There are free sites for anime. You didn't have to download
