Yeah noticed these in the last few hours, they look pretty sick.

Small changes like this more often makes things just that bit fresher.

They are almost identical to the old ones. At least in color and general appearance.

One thing that changed is the old icons had a black "plus" (+) sign in the upper left corner if you had posted in it. Instead we now change the graphic to include a pencil to indicate that you have posted in the thread. Then we moved the lock icon from the bottom right to the top left.

That is just semantics though. We changed this because instead of using a sprite image file and larger CSS, we are now using Font Awesome icons (look/scale better, less loading for members) and less CSS.

I think they have a nice look. ?

de_g3ntl3m4n - May 5, 2020, 5:18 pm

yeah they got removed now looking a bit different the just those little squares with errors now nothing too big though

Orchid - May 5, 2020, 5:19 pm

Was like that for me till I refreshed the cache

SIM-888979 - May 5, 2020, 8:46 pm

No need to clear your entire cache, you can right-click the image and shift + F5.

It'll hard refresh.

de_g3ntl3m4n - May 5, 2020, 10:10 pm

Feel like they are actually kind of looking very clean feeling like its on that 2020 level to be honest hahahaha
