User had a thread for 50% off items .

I messaged him for a custom order he said he could do it.

This would've been a month ago by now.

He had complications and I could tell he was bullshitting but gave him the benefit of the doubt .

And after asking him to refund me continually he made excuses etc started to bs.

I even gave him 24 hours to refund me and even extra time .

User is not to be trusted.

I paid him $55 AUD

If there's anyway to prove what u were buying along with any fake tracking id he gave u or anything be sure to add that since it's a bit confusing by the pics it looks like he deleted u then readded u to tell u his paypal was on hold then just stopped responding.

Dealt with him 2 days ago, I went first and he sent the BTC promptly after - seems weird edit; just looked at his recent posts, and his written communication seems different to what it was 2 days ago.

Sorry post may seem confusing .

So I paid this user ages ago for a hookah order . He said he could get it half price .

Anyway I paid him and he said he'd do his thing .
3 weeks went by and he still didn't do it .

And in the end I said I'll give him 24 hours otherwise I'll Open a dispute.
And then he blocked me

Motusora - May 7, 2020, 2:05 am

he opened a thread <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6075560> and closed it right away to prevent the accused giving his statement.
what a smart dude.

i hope you can't close disputes unless it's been resolved .
this feature should have implemented
