Thread: Beware of a new scammer here

AelonHunt - May 7, 2020, 12:57 am

Hello friends,

A new guy here is trying to scam people in new way.

What he did to me -
He commented on one of post to convo him.

So I messaged him on convo.

He asked me details for my service.

I gave him all the details.

When I asked for payment he took some time to create account on Blockchain and buy BTC.

After some time He showed me a screen shot that he transferred BTC to me and told me to start work.

I was about to create contract with him, but thought to check my wallet once.

Surprisingly, there was no money.

Still I thought he is a noob, so patiently I tried asking him that no money has been transferred.

Then he started claiming me that I am not doing his work.

When I asked for transaction details, he denied to give me.

This is just an alert for you guys to beware of that scammer. He is a big fraud. Make sure to check your wallet if some one claims that he transferred BTC to you.

Sorry! my mistake @Dotexe@. I am editing my post.

I hope I will not be flagged if I provide UID of other user here.

Link the UID & put in title of UID/Name

Add more proof.

"I was about to create contract"

You do know you start a contract BEFORE any money is sent/received right? That is literally the whole point of the contract system...

I think all deals should goes through contracts here , than there is no point of discussion if someone tried to deal with OP .

I completely agree with you Seagulls

But he asked for my BTC adress. And then he sent me screenshot saying that he transferred BTC. At that time I was discussing with him about work and quoting the price.
