His current profile <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=4668300>

He scammed many people including me on bitcointalk in 2017. He is a ban evader and always come here selling his shitty methods. He upgrade his account to look legit and reputed and start selling methods on first day after joining. I know some people have full information about him and they have made a police complaint against this scammer so beware dealing with this user. I will add more proof after I get them from the other people.

Here is past community alerts on him.

I found this thread on Bitcointalk few days ago, Do you think he is the same guy?

I always knew this guy was a scammer.

Since first day. I even had a discussion with him on his sales thread where he kept digging his grave deeper.

He then made another thread crying about how everyone hates him just because he donates to the forum.

Nope idiot, we have you because of your stupid posts on your sales threads:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6066094&page=5>

Kid claims he'd suicide if he made only 2K a month. Claims that he earns 40K a month, and sells a bustabit script.

He is a scam waiting to happen.

What concerns me more is that Hypebeast allowed him to buy in without doing any background check.

Anyone with half a brain can figure this retard was a scammer from day 1. I won't miss him a single bit.

Perileos - May 7, 2020, 12:16 pm

So far, his track record is flawless.

Accused of manipulating/faking transactions.

Makes a community alert to warn people about his friend who scammed his customers.

Actual amount of people and money scammed was lied about.

I mean if you are surrounded by scams and getting accused about it multiple times, you probably are scamming.
