Thread: Looking for ANY work - Hire me - 16 hours a day

Rezy - May 11, 2020, 2:36 am

Before all you kids say go get a real job, im a student and just looking to kill time in lockdown.

Don't mind anything, name it and I'll do it, mainly looking for weekly/monthly/yearly work.

I have up to 16 hours a day to work for you & reply instantly almost all the time.

I am really cheap but don't offer me like $0.5 an hour please lol

What I wont do;

Scamming, trust me people have hit me up and asked me to do this for them, I will not.

Done a few irl promotions for a marketing company if that counts lol, but will try to learn some code or photoshop.

Why don't you use that energy and work ethic toward something more valuable? I noticed you do some pretty cheap really boring work for people on here. With that much time and effort, you can learn a skill or start a project that makes a LOT more money than doing this will (and can even change your life).

Being able to work that hard/long and stay consistent is pretty rare. Use it for something better!

Being able to work that hard/long and stay consistent is pretty rare. Use it for something better! To be honest minimum wage here is $1.08, although any work i normally do irl is around $3 - $5/hour. Here i can get work, well when i can get work, for upwards of $6 - $10 an hour.

Im only 19 but made around $500 so thinking of starting a project irl but corona has fucked shit up.

Will be looking into something like that, thanks.

Also consistency isn't really a problem, I have a strong mindset, i know its not everything but its a lot.

You'll be amazed how valuable you'll become once you learn/master a particular skill.

I spent an year on HF trying to find jobs. Once i learnt to code i had projects coming in crazy that i had to close my service! Photoshop and a programming language will help you alot.

Would you be interested in farming sugar cane for our faction?

The task is very tedious.
