Thread: \$ESH \(Switch\) 2000% Last 7 days. Still Huge Potential Here's Why

Invincible - May 11, 2020, 11:18 am

I wanted to make this post after Switch has made a consistent rise over the past week.

This is not a pump and dump coin, and here's why it will continue to go up:

Basically the biggest reason for the coin's gain is GTG Or Ghost token. Ghost is a project from John McAfee himself

Official Website: <https://www.ghostbymcafee.com/>

Press Release:

<https://news.bitcoin.com/governments-unable-to-shut-it-down-john-mcafee-privacy-crypto/>

Timeline

Whitepaper: May 15th

Drop: May 25th

TOTAL SUPPLY : 55,000,000

INITIAL SUPPLY : 13,573,415

The only way right now to get GHOST token is by holding ESH before the drop on 25. Users who hold ESH will get 1:1 GHOST and get to keep both coins.

Now here's why I think it will continue to go up:

1. The barrier to entry into ESH right now is huge. Basically a "normie filter". It isn't listed in any major exchanges.

2. It is yet to be shilled by McAfee himself beyond the initial press release. If you've been in the crypto world, you know he has shilled many altcoins into the moon to his millions of followers on Twitter and interviews.

3. mainstream crypto discussion forums like Reddit and Bitcointalk have yet to pick up on it.

The Maths behind GHOST (I just copy-pasted it, not my own):

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Ghost maths (not confirmed yet)

NOTE: ghost team will have 1,500,000 tokens so circulating supply is only 12mil initial supply (25%): 13,573,415 MAX - this is how much ESH is available - REMEMBER not everyone will claim their ghost, lost wallets etc.

total supply: 55,000,000

The 75% comes from rewards for staking and masternodes.

- Staking GHOST allows you to share in the fees generated by the GHOST blockchain. Staking has no minimum coin requirements.
- Running a GHOST masternode requires 20,000 GHOST and is the best way to share in the fees generated by the GHOST blockchain. You can run as many masternodes as you would like.

How is ghost created and distributed?

In the beginning, 6 new GHOST tokens are minted each block (60s).

3 GHOST are split between masternodes

2 GHOST are split between stakers

1 GHOST goes into a pool used for future GHOST development and growth

$6\text{ghost} \times 60 \times 24 = 8640$ ghost a day

3,153,600 ghost a year so supply should run out in about 14 years

20k a for a super node. there can only be 675ish supernodes max to start if everyone had equal share of 20k

in that instance 4320 ghost are split between them every day giving 6.4ghost a day minimum stakers i imagine it goes on the % of stakepool you have etc. and you would split 2880 ghosts a day

we will know more on 15th

POSSIBLE BREADCRUMB on Whitepaper:

it's a bridged chain. basically you can lock Ghosts into a contract and mint the equivalent onto a given ETH address as an ERC20 token, making it available on all dex markets (works back and forth, analogous to NKN swaps).

How to get GHOST:

To claim your GHOST at launch (for free) you must be holding ESH token on May 25th.

To Buy ESH, you need to have ETH and head on over to IDEX (biggest volume), Uniswap, Mercatox, etc to convert ETH -> ESH

Next, this is important, you need to hold it in a wallet and not on an exchange before 25th. MEW/MetaMask/Trust etc.

The coins have a very low supply and considering the past coins McAfee has promoted, there is no doubt that he will promote his own one to the moon.

Edit: I made the post when ESH was trading at 0.0038 ETH, it's current price is 0.0064 ETH, almost 68.42% increase

If I did get paid to pump shitcoins, I'd be posting a new coin every week here nonstop and shill

Shilling just one coin on a forum where a small minority even has the ability to shift an altcoin up by a cent, is extremely inefficient and whoever pays someone to shill is probably an idiot.

Alright, my reply was misguided then.

If you're asking seriously, the price of ESH post snapshot depends on how big a part it will play in GHOST staking.

If it'll pay a minor role, ESH will dump hard post GHOST allocation to ESH holders on 25th.

Now how big a part ESH will play, that depends on the whitepaper that will be released tomorrow i.e 15th May.

I expect a small swing up or down depending on news tomorrow and then a slight dip or huge dip on 25th (but the 25th swing we'll know for sure based on whitepaper on 15th). But the price will keep rising until 25th that's for sure.

Plus everyone knows he gets paid to pump shitcoins, why this time it's different is because it's his own freaking coin.

Just an update, if you bought when I made the thread ignoring the naysayers, you would've made a 130% return in 4 days.

If you're thinking about getting in now, don't.

Today is the day of high volatility for this coin since the whitepaper will release today and the swing up or down will be huge.

Wait it out a few days. Unless you're a risk-taker, in which case go ahead.

Depending on the news today, ride the wave until 25th, which is another day of high volatility.

Play it smart and you could easily make massive gains.

It's touted as the next Monero killer, but, conservatively, I am hoping it reaches 40% Mcap of Zcash in the short term (2-3 months).

Considering current $ESH price (since it'll be 1:1 Ghost) and an initial circulation of GHOST at 25th (13,573,415), Ghost currently has ~$23Mil Mcap.

If it reaches that mark, you're looking at around 6.7x returns.

Now if it reaches its potential and even gets close to 50% Monero's cap, we're talking about ~24x returns.

Tbh, I don't care much about ESH, but their team is making huge strides lately and they've been extremely resourceful with their funds.

Switch is in the market (De-Fi) that is currently trending a lot. $KNC, $LEND, and $SNX (80 ~150m Mcap).

So, I am bullish on both coins long term, but I will obviously take profits slinging to weak hands in the short term.

And yes, like you said the smart thing to do if you're entering right now would be to directly buy GHOST when it gets listed, but like I mentioned currently at ESH's price GHOST has a MCap of ~$23Mil, and I am extremely doubtful it will start listing below that mcap (~$1-2/coin) for a coin that has such huge potential.

(May 15, 2020 11:51 PM)?Enlightened Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm starting to side with this coin purely because of the bs people are posting about mcafee.

and because the whitepaper is actually proposing something that (IF bought to life) will be a competitor.

I still won't touch it until it starts trading though. any kind of offering will, as they all are, result in a loss as soon as it goes on market. (May 16, 2020 04:49 AM)Invincible Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It's touted as the next Monero killer, but, conservatively, I am hoping it reaches 40% Mcap of Zcash in the short term (2-3 months).

Considering current $ESH price (since it'll be 1:1 Ghost) and an initial circulation of GHOST at 25th (13,573,415), Ghost currently has ~$23Mil Mcap.

If it reaches that mark, you're looking at around 6.7x returns.

Now if it reaches its potential and even gets close to 50% Monero's cap, we're talking about ~24x returns.

Tbh, I don't care much about ESH, but their team is making huge strides lately and they've been extremely resourceful with their funds.

Switch is in the market (De-Fi) that is currently trending a lot. $KNC, $LEND, and $SNX (80 ~150m Mcap).

So, I am bullish on both coins long term, but I will obviously take profits slinging to weak hands in the short term.

And yes, like you said the smart thing to do if you're entering right now would be to directly buy GHOST when it gets listed, but like I mentioned currently at ESH's price GHOST has a MCap of ~$23Mil, and I am extremely doubtful it will start listing below that mcap (~$1-2/coin) for a coin that has such huge potential.

Yesterday, I even advised against buying it at the current price point and to wait for the whitepaper swings to settle. If I were shilling to an audience with the potential to pump it, I wouldn't have done so, especially during whitepaper FOMO.

Yep and now it has done a 60% dump.

I literally advised against investing in it during whitepaper news.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6077070&pid=59793770#pid59793770>

When I posted the thread until the time I advised not to invest because of volatility it was 140% up, the gains were real.

Anyways, I stuck to the old crypto rule "Sell the news buy the rumors", served me pretty well over the years.

Made easy 48 ETH over 11 days. 21ETH was from swing trading yesterday on IDEX and uniswap. Mostly from an 8 ETH buy order at 0.0019

Just like my previous post, I am still bullish in the long term for both coins, so still have a 3.4k bag of ESH. The price will stabilize and grow over time.

Bought in today at .0048 eth.

I know it's not the lowest today but it should shoot up, I don't see it crashing anymore it's already dumped so hard because of PIVX I don't think there can be anymore bad news.

Will sell on the 25th before the airdrop though.

He's up 20.8% already on his investment.

That was a good price point to buy on, The lowest it went was 0045 on Idex today.

And yes the news was unfortunate, but that tested the hands of all holders of the coin. It seems like 0.003 is the hard resistance for this coin.

Also, I am very split on Ghost's price post airdrop. It's highly unlikely it will trade at <$1 to start.
