are you calling it a private wallet so you've got no reason to show anyone the TXIDS of the deposits because they won't exist?

Don't support the false implication of trust with your userbar should be changed, other than that Goodluck with your future crews.

This. Why keep the address private? Even if there was a good reason wouldn't you make it public anyways for the sake of your crew's reputation?

There is no reason for it to be public since the btc will not move from the private wallet it is deposited to, displaying that information could lead to it being stolen.

This and this.

Also it was a good idea to finally add something to your thread that actually distinctly states that this is not an official HF middleman Crew.

there's no risk, I knew he was going to mention it as private because i asked him on another thread to send TXIDS to verify the deposits of the members he was going to invite, instead, he ignored me kicked them and posted it anyway, and responded almost exactly how i said he would on the other thread to Luca.

He's clearly making it private so no one can verify the deposits and he can recruit anyone and make it seem like they're trusted.

How is it a lack of transparency? Nobody needs to know it, even if the risk is minuscule of something happening to the funds if the address is made public, it is not worth it. I am sure the address will be made known to those who need to know it, admins and such, the people who replied to this thread are not included as they clearly have no intention of joining the crew (and wouldn't have the funds to do so).

Also you can't criticize someone for listening to criticism and then introducing another measure to ensure the safety of members who will interact with the crew.

Yall hating for the sake of it.

If that's the case then it's no problem at all, but considering the amount of people shitting on Lavish, you would think he'd say that before you. (Of course if an admin confirms this the argument is

I'll disregard the fact you tried to imply I was poor lols.

There was entire other thread where the flaws in lavishes crew were shown and he fled to edit what he could to make it appear like he wasn't trying to monopolize and isolate the MM of the forum, I'm going to assume he's your friend because no one's dumb enough to actually think he's doing this with no greedy intent or to further his ego, Also no one was redirected or brought here to troll there's just a vast majority of people who don't tolerate shit and say it how they see it that's why this outcome happened.

This thread was built entirely to act as a defense to some shit he said elsewhere to try and hide his real intent that was exposed by me along with other members I've got no affiliation with, this thread is not serious so I don't know why you expect others to take it as such.

If you are referring to that he invited Zero which I agree was a bad idea, did he not kick Zero after and then introduce the 1 btc entry holding? Which you lot still bashed even though he was trying to make it safe for people who used his crew to find middlemen. Who cares if he's doing it for his ego or "greedy" intent, he is still actively trying to help the site.

Holy shit I watched you read an entire relevant thread and this is what you came up with? Are you even worth responding to what ignorance.

And don't imply people can't afford something if you don't know them and they aren't relevant to you because that implies you know something about them or their financial state, sorry you judge someone's income on forum icons LMAO.

Anyway to put it simple if you think he did this because he genuinely wanted to fix the 100 flaws in his initial idea and not just to use it as a "i do have a deposit requirement to reimburse anyone that is scammed but i wont show you because a public TXID could put the deposit at risk not because it doesn't exist and i slowly want to add back the users to monopolize the MM community"

Then I have no other choice but to believe you're either kissing his ass or straight-up idiotic.

Also how did u some how skip over the 5 times he implied he was verified by staff to become the spokesman of middlemen

I was actually referring to the other members who replied, who I know do not have such funds. I don't know you, care about you in the slightest. You are boring, and if I did assume you didn't have a spare btc to join his crew is because you spend nearly half your life being a cringey fuck on here.

If you believe he was trying to suggest he was verified by staff to become spokesmen of middlemen, you are stupid. I interpreted it as he was given the green light to create a crew with middlemen he deems worthy, but we can agree to disagree on that.

Also, its neither I am kissing his ass, or idiotic (imo) rather I disagree with the points you are making. The TXID does not need to be public, if it needs to be shared with anyone it will be someone like Omni, which I assume will happen. If you made the point that Lavish could run away with the funds held for the entry fee, sure. That's a possibility but I don't believe Omni would allow this crew to exist without checking if the funds are actually being held.

grady - May 13, 2020, 7:38 am

Idk why you implied everyone but me then if you know nothing about me makes no sense, If i'm boring why make an effort to babble some undeniable bullshit for your homie? and I've been inactive for almost 2 years I hardly spend even 1% of my life on this forum, 2 months in 7 years? you've spent that on a game more than likely just this year.

And to have read the same thing we all read but somehow come out with a completely different outlook than multiple people only leads me to believe you're ass-kissing more, also there was initially NO deposit and he was claiming staff approval so I don't get how you came up with he could only be approved of omni was to look at the funds since this deposit was added well after his crew was made and he recruited other MM? But in saying all this since you said it wouldn't be approved without omni or staff verifying such a deposit that means you agree with all of us in saying that this crew is misleading and shouldn't be allowed with an official staff announcement or proof of an actual 1btc deposit that's verified by staff, seems you're coming around to reality slowly but surely.

Exposed74 - May 13, 2020, 7:41 am

Just to know, how many transactions made are worth around 1BTC ? Probably close to 0. It's lower than the probability of an exit scam. That 1BTC would just be used by Lavish to buy more awards.

"Why should you make the adress public" : to show the people using the MM that there is actually "insurrances" (and also prove that you also frozen one of your BTC on it and give the wallet to a neutral guy, because you could also scam someone when doing your exit scam)

I assumed everyone wouldn't have the funds because its the internet, its HackForums of all places. Do I expect someone who sits in the lounge all day to have a BTC spare? Maybe you do, maybe you don't. If i'm wrong really sorry that I, some random from the internet, misjudged your wealth.

Yeah there was originally no deposit, he changed that after like 48 hours of the crew being created? I still don't really see the issue??

Idc about you assuming my wealth, in reality, you just shouldn't assume everyone on this forum is poor cause the ones who flex are actually the broke ones, but we can move on from this point it's irrelevant.

He changed it purely because he needed a defense for the mountain of lies he got caught out for, there are other places he implied staff approval (knowing lavish he probably edited them out or deleted he's notorious for this) some may be in our quotes but i can assure you any of the other active participants can vouch for this.

And you're right, but no one will join this thread will die out and if lavish is allowed to keep his misleading crew then he will slowly introduce people as we all forget and then inevitably remove the deposit requirement from his thread cause you and i both know realistically if anyone was adding to his crew they 100% didn't pay a 1 btc buy in to anyone that would be the dumbest investment ever.

This is true. The most i held as middleman was 6k at one point and that was 2x3k deals at the same time. And thats 2 years of middlemaning, most of the deals are under 500$.

The scene for IGs and GTs on HF is dead as it gets and those deals are the ones with most value. No one has to be in this crew to open their own MM service nor they need to give someone 1BTC. LOL

Good luck with the crew Lavish, i wanted to be in it but i am not getting associated with people like Zero who i wouldn't send money first in a exchange let alone let him hold my funds.

leaving a volatile btc in someone elses hands where you can't sell it to be apart of a crew with 1 other guy to MM a deal every few weeks for 1-3%? sounds like the worst investment ever, but good luck with it.

Even if he was to ensure people with his money (which he will no doubt comment) there's no doubt he wouldn't refund any substantial amount, and this all can be avoided by simply not misleading members of the forum.

I think it shouldn't exist and if it did it should be a very few selected OG members who have proven their worth because as soon as a forum especially one as big as HF puts their trust in someone they instantly become more valuable and if this was to cost even 1-2k the trust they gain they could easily scam quit for a lot more.

the only people worthy of said role would be minimalist/cooligan/killjoy/eagle imo but eagle is way too busy, killjoy is self banned and cooligan/mini aren't very active in the market anymore.

Isn't 3-way contracts literally what you supported being implemented not even a day ago, the same thread that made you more of a mockery than you already were?

I'll dumb down the 3-way contract since you don't understand multiple meanings for words, any way you're incorporated to the contract between 2 other traders and in the end a b-rating is also applied to your account.

And don't take the term loophole in this so literal, it's a simple term that implies a workaround of some sort, educate yourself 'teacher'

He's made over 150 bytes from posting here (do we get 6bytes per post? Idk anymore lol)

That's $0.40!!

Why not making a special wallet for the crew (and "official" wallet of the crew) , where you receive the money , you then send the money and send the 3% to your member who did the deal , instead of asking 1 BTC ?

Just asking , in the end , it's your crew and your rules .

Yes invite me. I am a high quality member, definitely not controlled by the Chinese government to coerce Americans into sending me their money and holding up an illusion of security.

Not only do I type extremely fast with quick wit which reduces the actual time spent on this thread not even 1 minute/post.

But while you sat here reading and writing just to respond to me you spent at least half the amount of time I did doing FUCK all yourself, and if it wasn't apparent that many of us are trying to prevent people from being scammed (which is a productive and decent thing to do) then I think you should spend some more time educating yourself on productive time management and not trying to project your insecure lazy ass to other members of the forum.

(May 14, 2020 04:37 AM)Biggy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) 1. No one read or gives a Clay Davis any of your replies. Clicked "who posted" at the top of the page.

2. While the 1 btc requirement is ridiculous, I think most people would trust Lavish 10 times more than they would trust some random weaboo trash like yourself.

3. The next time I want your opinion, I'll wipe my ass because it's the same damn thing. Until then, keep your moth shut, peasant.

1. No one reads it? yet you've not only read but you've responded to my post and in points format meaning you read and analyzed every part of my comment?

2. I don't care if people don't trust me on HF I've got a successful business IRL and I judge trust by a lot more factors than award icons he paid 10% of the value for. But I guess you're some young kid who hates the world cause he spent money on one too many ebooks and now thinks anyone with award flexes is the new Pablo Escobar.

2. This only confirms you're either young ignorant or way too old to be on this forum and lack creativity or a reasonable response because you realize how retarded your initial statement was.

The next time anyone wants your opinion (which wont be any time soon I assure you) try to actually use your fucking brain instead of smashing your keyboard like a troglodyte because in 2 posts you've shown that not only are you an envious monkey but you're not intelligent at all.

Happy to provide free MM services for any member. Probably escrowed the most on the forum?

Add our threads if everyone has one, which I think you both do.

Hey OP the thread image is broken.

GL getting members for your crew!

Stanley - September 26, 2021, 12:39 pm

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. This OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley
