Nice to see you giving up so much of this excellent service to lucky people for free! I better see a lot of entries, this is a great VPN service!

I feel you'll get more attention if you posted this to the Members Contest section instead of the free giveaways section

Thanks for the generous giveaway, just wanted to let you know also, that your confirmation email currently goes through as spam at least to gmail account holders. Also it would be cool if you tried to make the confirmation email a clickable button or link as I had to copy and paste the link to confirm my email. Just my thoughts :)

I have been given a month of access to this service and prepared a short review. I hope this would help those interested and Elfonzo to look into the shortcomings of the product. Here are my findings:

I am satisfied with:

- Speeds are decent although servers are from a long distance away (I'm from Singapore). On par with other big names.

- Pricing is cheap with 3 different tiers. Weekly/Monthly/Yearly (This is only a Pro if more features/locations are added in the future)

- The site states 'No data is stored by our servers.'. I hope this is true.

- Support is quick via Chat and answered my questions within 2 minutes. I asked for support time and confirmed to be during US working hours.

- BTC for payment option is an additional layer for anonymity.

Room for improvement:

- Very few locations - 3 locations Turkey/US/Germany (OpenVPN) / The app provided has 3 locations minus Turkey but with Switzerland (not accessible)

- Port provided: 1 fixed auto-assigned port which can't be changed (adding more costs $1 each which is also fixed auto-assigned)

- The website home page needs more helpful content. It could feature more features and a FAQ section. Maybe the image sizes could be standardized too.

Others (May bother some):

- DNS does leak. Extended test done on multiple sites and leak found on

- <https://www.dnsleaktest.com> (OP mentioned that this could be bypassed with tweaks on the device and is working on an automated method without user intervention)

- Company is US-based (5 eyes country) - I trust OP wouldn't even have anything to provide since 'No data is stored' is mentioned on the website.

- Windows Application: Has some detection by 4 AV's (should be FP)

- Cheaper options could be found with better features. Please bear in mind that this is a new service and should improve over time.

As of this moment, I would say this is a good service if the shortcomings mentioned above are fixed. I would personally not purchase it for now. I am however open to be a tester however long OP wants me to be. And YES I would want to win the 1 year too! It would be a great chance to see this service grow.

OP, I hope this honest review would help you with future updates. Do not get demotivated and keep up the good work!
