Thread: Clarification about open disputes.

King - May 13, 2020, 4:50 pm

Hello HF,

I've recently been receiving a lot of disputes and I want to clarify a couple things.

1- All the disputes are valid. The members have paid the down-payment and haven't received the full products yet.

2- I've been facing a lot of issues IRL. Many developers that were supposed to help with frontend services failed to do that.

3- I have several projects so if I don't reply after every code I write, it doesn't mean I'm not working on it. In fact, there is not a single project that I've not worked on.

4- All disputes will be resolved asap and buyers will be happy.

Sorry for all the inconvenience. I'm truly sorry for all of this.

Why posting it here?

Post it in DD threads.

You have a problem with your buyers, others won't really care about your deals.

If you're not interested, just don't post. Thank you.

Why would anyone be interested in your deals except your buyers?

"Front-End"? If its a bit of web coding, support, or C# I might be able to help you sort it, but if I invest time, I want partial ownrship rights of your project.

bogustoke - May 13, 2020, 5:05 pm

Over the last few weeks, I have had King help me out with two different deals. He was nothing but helpful, kind, and extremely smart. He is easily one of the most legitimate users on this website, he has my respect for sure.

her0. - May 13, 2020, 5:14 pm

King has been working on a project of mine which involves complex AI/ML algorithms and is very knowledgeable in his field. Take as much time as you need as I understand you have been having IRL issues <3

Porn - May 13, 2020, 5:53 pm

I suggest closing your sales thread and trying to solve the 7 open disputes before accepting more projects, eventually staff will put a hold on your account.

Angela White - May 13, 2020, 5:55 pm

I agree with @Porn@, close your sales threads until this gets resolved. I'm sure we all appreciate you coming out and saying you'll fix shit. Shit happens, as long as you get it resolved you should be gucci.

Astrogen - May 13, 2020, 6:04 pm

Send that to the customers you scammed (scammer unless resolved). We don't need your explanation, they do.

Too busy, but the thread is still open and wants to accept more requests ???

I hope this gets resolved for the sake of the customers.

I already said that sales are on hold and denied a couple projects. I closed it now.

Thanks for your constructive and polite criticism.

My opinion as one of the people that has a dispute against King.

Finish the projects you have to finish, with the money you get from the rest of the payment upon delivering those projects, refund those who need to be refunded, myself included, refunding will close a few of your disputes and one less hassle for you to deal with.

We all go through shit in real life, but as "business man" you have to deal with everything professionally, don't leave clients without knowing what's happening because at least from my end, if you had spoken to me in a different way I would of understood and I wouldn't of open the dispute.

I really do hope that you can sort this all out, for your sake and for the sake of your clients.

Another thing, no matter what's going on in real life; never threaten clients or potential clients, that's very unprofessional.

Wish you all the best, hope you don't take this the wrong way and I hope to see my money very soon.

Edit this post my guy or you'll get a warning for vouching without being a contracted customer.

I think if he's saying the word vouch it has to be connected to the thread you're posting, but i'm reaching there. Just looking out for him cause thats a day limitation if he fails the quiz.

Please do your research first. Not sure if he can say it here though. He's a contracted customer anyway.

Let him be he's a clown. Obviously made the thread in attempt to get more clowns for his service. How about you just fix your 50 deal disputes and return the money you stole and apologize after?

No one gives a fuck right now nor do I doubt anyone wants work done from you. This thread is pointless, we know you're a scammer.

Edit: op you really think your -5 popularity will make me remove this post? LMAO. I'm actually laughing my ass off.

Thanks for your support. I am trying my best and working 18 hours per day to fix them.

A + - May 14, 2020, 11:26 pm

I completely understand that, as I'm sure most people have been in tight situations like that before. The fact that you joined in 2009 and were upfront about it, I would take your word. Then again I can't give any advice to anyone. Regardless, best of luck to everyone.

-DarkByDesign- - May 15, 2020, 1:28 am

I'm one of the customers, I marked the dispute RESOLVED as a gesture of goodwill. I paid $100 for lead generation of 2 surveys, and proof of it working and generating organic traffic opt-in data which I can use.

King seems genuine enough, I've given him 7 days to finish something due to his INREAL issues.

Will await delivery, although his marked contracted completed now, I have yet to receive anything.

Although my good nature, this does not mean it will not happen, the dudes voice-called me several times to discuss several things so we will see ladies and gentleman.

Kind regards

-D

This is an incredibly stupid thing to do. Please never do that again. I've seen plenty of cases where members close the DD and then get finessed from the seller as they don't have more options.

I'm not saying that will or will not happen here, I'm talking in general. Do not mark as resolved before you get the deal resolved...

This is either going to teach me a lesson or restore faith in humanity, but for future I will only use Middleman or No payment until delivery/testing is completed.

Thanks Eagle.

Completely agree with this guy, marking something has resolved when it isn't resolved, it's basically you asking for it... again might not happen here in this deal, but it would be stupid to do something like that.

Alright, I am gonna add my shit to the whole situation - this is just fucked up. He claims he ran into real life problems. At that time, he still got his sales thread open, which is sus. Sure, happens to everyone even to the most professional business man. A professional businessman, doesn't let his customers wait 2+ weeks for a refund which takes a minute to do tho. This is very shady. If you can't finish a project after 2 weeks past the deadline, refund immediately! He either spent all the money on bullshit or he needed it for medical treatment, debts, etc. He should clearly COMMUNICATE that. Or he simply fooled all of you while keeping all of your hopes up - aka he scammed!

My guess is you all getting fooled really really hard right there. Also manipulated some to mark the deal disputes as resolved even tho they WERENT. What kinda people do that? Scammers.

Keep your hopes low.

Exactly. This thread is pointless, it's an attempt to gain more morons for his service.

Who in the right mind takes more projects when you can't finish the current load you have? Man has literally 5+ disputes, probably more awaiting to be opened.

I think enough has been said in this thread. OP and most of the people involved have spoken their minds. Closing this thread for now.
