Thread: award bug?

Ash Ketchum - May 14, 2020, 11:55 pm

Noticed recently a few profiles don't show the correct amount of awards on a user's profile (more or less) but this isn't for everyone. and hasn't changed for at least a week since i first noticed it.

asked a few friends just in case it was just my cache but no one sees any more or less than the ones i do.

Yeah, I was wondering this myself. This bug is on my profile.

Yeah weird, at first I thought maybe it was egg-related since the new lottery system, But if that was true id have like 10 more awards listed.

Huh, that's odd. It's the same for me on Xero's profile, only shows 1 but you can still view the page.

Your profile, mine, and anyone else's I've looked at have been fine so far.

Wonder how many users look like this or have this issue with their award count.

Honestly I'm just thrilled we have that option there now, I missed being able to view the list of my awards and the times (years) I got them.

There also seems to be some interesting byte fees associated with the lottery of eggs...

Lavish has an error when he tries to sort his awards.

Ah shit. Likely in one of the new features Xerotic isn't doing the count correctly. We can fix next week.
