Thread: Recruit Beta Testers

RCE - May 17, 2020, 3:07 pm

I'm recruiting beta testers for testing our private crypter now,

High reps/upgraded members are preferable,

All users who tests and give an honest review will get free crypts after the service released.

PM me or post here if interested in becoming a tester.

Kind Regards,

RCE.

Can your private crypter do C# Files?

I'm extremely interested please let me know!

Ill post a review of what i personally think of the crypter. And the infection rate results too!

Just let me know and im sure we can figure something out

Thank you!

Thanks for your reply , i assume it can be the correct forum rather than cryptography because the crypter can be used on botnets and such softwares.

More technical details, and I might take a sample and reverse engineer it.

Yeah, reverse engineering and leaking product is a dream of every developer.

What?

I send samples of my files to almost any developer, and I have even sent them to researchers who ask for them, so I in turn can receive constructive criticism and improve my product. I do not see how building a strong product is possible without this.

Got tons of requests and adds,

Thanks for everyone that wants to contribute and get a review.

The thread will be closed for now.
