Thread: My transaction is stuck I need help :\(

Complexcity - May 22, 2020, 10:40 am

I needed to pay my bills hence I transferred my btc from one of my wallet to the other, used a regular fee which was recommended, not a priority fee through the blockchain app. It's been 7+ hours and the transaction is still unconfirmed. I am really clueless rn and would appreciate some light thank you.

This is the transaction btw

This is completely normal, Blockchain is being a abit slow lately it'll be all fine should be confirmed soon.

Isn't there a transaction accelerator tool on HF? Or is that just for upgraded members?

I believe it's available for all members considering it's on the drop down tab,

Right on. I can never remember what's available to everyone and what's just for upgraded members. It's been too long lol.

A 80$ transaction of mine with 1.8$ fee took 2 days to confirm even after rebroadcasting it to the network for miners to pick it up. Just wait it out.

Exalted - May 22, 2020, 12:02 pm

Just like the others have said, just wait it out, man.

Bald - May 22, 2020, 12:04 pm

You can broadcast the transactions, it will makes it go faster.

Complexcity - May 22, 2020, 12:14 pm

Thanks everyone for the help. I've used a btc accelerator to broadcast the tx again. However would you say the fees are too less? It's what has got me concerned

B?????araka - May 22, 2020, 3:13 pm

Its all a waiting game @OP.

Is there an estimate though? Or a period after which either the money's lost or shows back up in the wallet? I couldn't possibly be waiting forever bro :(

I'm not sure what the timeframe is, but from my understanding, at a certain point any transaction that wasn't picked up by miners is erased and the funds reappear in their original wallet. Again, I don't know what that timeframe is, though.

I believe that you need to pay insane amounts for fees in order to prioritize your transaction. It can take way too long to get the confirmations. If things go really wrong, money will return to your wallet.

Complexcity - May 23, 2020, 2:03 am

Thanks for all the support guys, the transaction is now confirmed :)

VisualSoft - May 23, 2020, 2:08 am with that low fees, you will need to wait out.

Glad you got it solved, supply and demand is the main reason why it takes so long, you can pay a higher fee to get it sorted quicker.

Miners usually choose transactions with the highest fees first, if you pay a low fee, it'll take some time to get processed.

Blockchain is shitting itself currently. Just wait it out. Is it transferred yet?

Hero - May 23, 2020, 5:00 am

Confirmed now, takes a long time and big fees rn.
