I had reported and disputed a contract earlier with SomeOne.big for spamming service of Office365 involving MM, I was suppose to send $1800 directly to MM But i mistakenly sent the payment directly to SomeOne.big thinking it was the MM Zexi btc address.

An hour after opening the dispute, SomeOne.big contacted me and i told him to refund my money or do the spamming job. He told me he was asleep and didn't run away. He then told me to resolve the dispute and open another contract with him that he will complete the job. We opened another contract without MM as he said he will complete the job but since then i haven't heard from him so i am reopening the dispute.

I know this is a loss for me, i am only putting this out here as reference to others not to fall victim these low livess

Make sure you leave a negative B rating to the user.

The things he is trying to get done will never be done on HF because of HF is full of fuckboys and scamming skids. Whoever is spamming emails/phishing is already doing it for himself has no reason to do it for anyone else as a service.

They finesse him to send directly to them i feel bad for him he makes me want to help him just off GP but i guess that's how some people have to learn.
