Thread: King uid=115612

SIM-974023 - May 25, 2020, 10:04 am

This thread is mainly to address the deal disputes the member King/AI has open.

<https://hackforums.net/contracts.php?action=disputes&uid=115612>

Have any contracted customers with open disputes had a reply from him since his "apology" thread ?

I have contacted him on Discord multiple times to no avail, no reply whatsoever. He was unbanned I assume to sort these issues out, he says he is working on projects but can't provide any proof, just words.

This is not a thread to trash the user, so please don't treat it as one. I'm just genuinely concerned that he wont fulfill his 8 open disputes and it seems to have already spent the money.

Edit: 11 disputes now

Damn he's at 8 open disputes. He should probably finish up his current projects before taking future clients' money.

I vouched for the guy in the past. BUT this is too much, he should either refund or do their work.

I concur with this. He has done work for me successfully in the past, but this is too much.

Things are not looking too good for him

Money Man - May 26, 2020, 1:02 pm

Funny how after he made that thread members actually marked their disputes resolved.
Oh well for them.

Thats people who believe in the good too much. Also we have to admit that King is a good manipulator with his calm behavior - everyone thought they are gonna get their refund even after weeks passed.

Lesson learned, all good.

Now you just have to hope something gets done about all this.

The HF marketplace is a strange place when it comes to who gets banned.

for sure, they should be marketplace banned with a big warning sign "DEAL WITH CAUTION" under their user title.

Do you have any updates on your end?

I don't think anything has been resolved.

He dm'ed on Discord, Have you gotten a response?

Unsure why he thinks I want him to do a different project. Maybe because I said if it's too hard I can give him a different project but he said it was fine and he already started it.
