Doscord he used to contact me :Grim#3898

This was my thread and i wanted someone to pay for me on zoom.us

Someone named Grim contacted me on discord and told me he can help me. here is the short conversation , i opened contract but i forgot that he have to accept it first,

But i sent him $50 bitcoins. within few seconds he cancelled the contract . i pmed him but he is not responding

Is this a coincidence that he can cancel the contract within one minute after i sent him payment and not even replying me in PM ?

Well he can say that its an offsite deal and it was not him on discord.

But it cant be coincidence that he can check my contract and cancel it within a minute but he can ignore my pm sent just after he cancelled the contract.

I know i was dumb to send him money before he accept the contract. But its just a community alert now. he is quick fast to cancel contract but not quick fast to reply a pm .

(May 26, 2020 10:25 PM)James! Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It sounds like you were scammed by an impersonator on Discord.

You also made a crucial mistake in paying before the contract was accepted anyway which is a big no-no.

You're also not supposed to use Discord for deals and not supposed to deal off-site.

Was about to say this exact same thing.

@OP - did you confirm the discord was actually his?

i know everyone will be he is the imposter, but this cant be coincidence that he can cancel contract with in seconds and take hour to reply pm. well

1. That's not Grim's Discord.
2. Stupid of you to not use the contract system at HF.
3. Doing Discord deals is stupid.
4. Always confirm someone via PM before you start a deal with them.
5. This makes it invalid.

People selective scam. (Not saying Grim did) This is on no one but yourself for not confirming who the discord belonged to, regardless of how coincidental the timing may have been.

Oh boy if someone warned you that you don't deal on discord... Oh wait

He just happen to add you in discord without sending a message in forum and you really believed its him?

I try to understand your logic, from discord it can be anyone using his name
