Thread: rockbottomiswhereiam has Disputed a Contract with n0\$f3ratu\$ \(6093 \)

I bought his crypter "DataProtector" and after 1 day this user suspended my license without no reason and won't give me a refund.

The reason he suspended my license was just because i crypted a Darkcomet server and he said i should have used "Something newer that is maintained". There is no mention in this users DataProtector thread that wasn't allowed to crypt a DC server.

I contacted the user, with good intentions and asking for help to know what Remote Administrator Tools i could use with his crypter and got treated like trash and no help was provided.

I just want a refund to finish this situation.

PS: i will post the convo if necessary.

EDIT:

Full convo: <https://files.fm/u/nsjnx526#/view/56xqw3yj>

@rockbottomiswhereiam is brain dead.

I hope he will post the convo so everyone will see how smart he is.

Now @rockbottomiswhereiam without a valid reason there will be no refund!

I don't know in how many ways I can explain to you that DarkComet is a 10 year old and unmaintained rat.

I don't have to add it to the list.

Those exact two words represent that rat exactly.

If you are stupid enough to use something that is detected in memory by all major av's then so be it, but you won't do it using my crypter.

Where DID you STATE that i couldn't use DC rat? Its wasn't on your list, you are just being a crying baby.

You have no reason for stealing my money.

Xamarin - May 27, 2020, 5:18 am

Well ... I will be devil's advocate with both of you.

First, @rockbottomiswherelam when he says "outdated not maintained" RATs, then he certainly pictures DC as well, since this RAT is not only heavily outdated (and hard to crypt), but also extremely unsafe since it has several security vulnerabilities which could expose YOU and getting YOU hacked just by running it and exposing the listening port to the world.

Secondly, @n0$f3ratu$ I believe that since you have added an automatic license ban for crypting those RAT's, then that means that you have created specific signatures to identify them .. which means that in my honest opinion you should have spent some time to create an accurate list of unsupported RAT's. That way you would have avoided this whole mess in the first place.

In conclusion, my opinion is that @rockbottomiswhereiam you should ask from @n0$f3ratu$ to give you either a free or cheap alternative to DC that is supported by his crypter, so that you can both go on with your lives and no one be at loss.

Hello Xamarin,

You are totally right about the problems that DC can cause, but as i was going to use it locally i thought that would do the job.

As you can see in the convo, i asked the @n0$f3ratu$, "May i know what Remote Administrator Tools can i use?" and his response was: "Something newer that is maintained."

As i'm not getting any help to resolve this situation, i was in my rights to ask for a refund but instead of giving me my money he just insulted me.

Worst buying experience ever lol. How this user is allowed to sell in the Marketplace?

PS: Also, that user added me to his ignore list. That means that he doesn't want to resolve this situation and basicly stole my money.

Prawnster - May 27, 2020, 5:39 am

Ehh idk why anyone would use DC ever, but I agree that n0$f3ratu$ could have had a little more patience with you.

I don't think it requires a refund since he re-activated your license for you, just buy/obtain a newer RAT.

I believe the fact you are using the RAT "locally" is a void point since you bought the crypter to hide whatever it is you are doing.

No! That means I had enough of you.

I didn't stole anything from you.

I even allowed your license to run as soon as you opened the convo with me, but you keep insisting to use DarkComet.

As I said that is fine by me, but not using my crypter.

Also is not my job to teach or to recommend free or paid malware.

1. I am not into malware.. of any kind... if you can believe that.

2. Even if I was I wouldn't help you.

A simple search right here on HF and you would have found probably the best free rat. (I won't name it just so you get crazy).

ALSO most important.

If you would have come to me and asked politely for a refund because you are stupid and you don't know better, I would have given the refund, but again you insisted to use DC.

As a result this is happening.

You lost both your money and your license.

I'm on your side on this one. If the buyer is using outdated software and your thread clearly states that your program doesn't work on outdated software, then he can't complain that it's not working for him.

I don't even RAT anymore but when I did, I was like 13 (and I'm 21 now) and I was using Dark Comet back then, and it was an unmaintained and old project back then even.

OP, if you're investing money in a crypter, why are you using a free shitty RAT from 10 years ago?

From what I can see going through this post, you keep ignoring the arguments made against you and restate your arguments against him. He stated that old and outdated apps are included, even if the name of your rat wasn't specifically mentioned. You could have had an argument there if you say you won't do it again or something similar (and he DID reinstate your license, even if it was after a while), but instead you insisted it is his fault (in your convo) and requested refunds which have been stated are not allowed in the contract. You should have let it go after he reinstated your license and followed his instructions, but now that you kept pushing that none of it was your fault and he was to blame, you have lost your license and claim you "just want this to get resolved"

If I'm being honest, there is nothing you can do anymore because you brought this upon yourself. Get over it, and learn for the future that the vendor which controls your license has the high ground, and you can't go blaming them for shit they haven't done unless you have at least semi-passable proof.

On His thread it says " His TOS can change anytime without a prior notice" so your license ban might not just due to the DC or whatever the crap you using with it .

so it cannot be the only reason for him to ban your license . he may have deem that your a risk for his service and banned you (im just assuming) and according to convo he has given you a ban reason . and he is not liable to vouch or recommend you whatever the crap your seeking for . he is not here to give you advices based on your 3rd party tool concern neither he is your 3rd party tool mentor or adviser .

He only provides the crypter , if he says his obfuscater isn't allowed to be used with 10 year old crapware , its means your breaking your violating his tos and the use of it .
and it was just a temp ban lol ! and not a perm ban for you to get butt hurt dont expect crypter or whatever the product sellers to guide you to find SMTP seller that works with mailer , or crypter seller to teach you how to make a PDF exploit or where to get it .

for that you can make a thread in the community and ask it yourself and people will answer on it

Ok, so what was the reason for the ban? I never said i was going to keep using DC rat and said that there are no FREE RAT that is currently maintained or not old. He never stated that i couldn't crypt a DC server and he can't ban my license for using it.

He never stated that was a temporary ban and also i would need to buy RAT since the FREE ones are outdated.

Can you Show me where exactly he has said , use of free or paid rats are allowed ? or whats allowed or whats not technically no where on his main sales thread design . it has being said , what are you talking about ?

On the freaking ban warning (Note) he has stated the reason for your temp ban ! xD and according to his tos , he can ban you even without a reason - remember his tos can change anytime without a prior notice which you agreed upon contract :)

His TOS:

May i know where it says that i couldn't use outdated not maintained or poorly coded apps?

He said i couldn't use the ones on the list. And also, he never said that was a temp ban.

"..his tos can change anytime without a prior notice" But he can't scam, no matter what his TOS says. :)

Aaaand another user who couldn't defend his scammy best friend when provided with legit facts.

EDIT:

And of course, the user @Tom C left me -5 lol.

He couldn't be against n0$f3ratu$ because he was afraid of getting -rep, this is too fun ?. People defending high rep scammy stupid users because they are afraid of losing business in HF.

Rep exchanging:

Multi's? lol

That's not a multi, that how everybody get their reputation.

The seller is no trying to scam you, for what i read from the beginning, only apologies could have close this dispute bro.

You don't need to prolonged the matters, just apologize to him and he will re install your license.

I'm still waiting for the refund. No comunication from the seller either.

This is a joke, this user shouldn't be allowed to sell.

Go back to exchanging rep with your boyfriends and multis. This thread has a valid reason for a dispute.

I also have another Remote Administration Tool and i'm willing to accept the license.

id say this is your fault op as no need to buy from someone who says "dont post issues on thread"

huge red flag

Its sad to see that nothing happens to these trash bags because they have reputation and can abuse the system.

Mr.MK - May 31, 2020, 8:19 am

DarkComet is old and unmaintained indeed.

Wow i havent been in this scene for years. I think it was discontinued like 8 years ago.

Also, DarkComet has always been hard to crypt.

Thats just OP own fault.

Have you read this thread at least?

Can you explain me how its my fault? He stole my money and banned my license without a valid reason.

I don't know in how many ways I can explain to you that DarkComet is a 10 year old and unmaintained rat.

Whether you believe a customer is smart or not, I don't think insulting a paid client will look good on you. So for this, I'm siding with rockbottom.

He has a valid reason from his thread, albeit a stupid reason. Purchase someone elses crypter.

Also, tell him you want a refund and not to use a different rat to reactivate your license.

Accord - June 1, 2020, 4:30 am

Okay so its your fault at the end op, you still keep saying he didnt mention but theres already a warning, if the rat is outdated or not maintained then it is obviously not allowed, he doesnt need to tell you that because that word says it all

Is DC on the list? NO. All it says is that he is going to add more outdated or not maintained rat to the list.

He cannot simply disrespect me and steal my money for crypting a DC server. Also, i told i was willing to use another remote administration tool.

People that supports this kind of beahavior makes me think of this new generation. ?

Is dc outdated, yes. did the note says it will be added more outdated or not maintained rat?? yes so stop saying he steal your money when in fact you didnt comply in his terms, when you buy license, you dont own the author or the software, you only own the usage of the software in a specified time and if the terms says sales are final, it means there will be no refund unless you didnt get the software at all

Again,

Did it say i would lose my money/license if i crypted a DC server? No.
Was DC on the list? No.

"..own the usage of the software in a specified time.." Exactly, and i paid for it.

The term "Sales are final" doesn't mean he can scam. lol

I bought his crypter "DataProtector" and after 1 day this user suspended my license without no reason and won't give me a refund.

The reason he suspended my license was just because i crypted a Darkcomet server and he said i should have used "Something newer that is maintained". There is no mention in this users DataProtector thread that wasn't allowed to crypt a DC server.

I contacted the user, with good intentions and asking for help to know what Remote Administrator Tools i could use with his crypter and got treated like trash and no help was provided.

I just want a refund to finish this situation.
