I don't get why people play Blackjack anyway thinking they can win.

It's same as Slots, you don't have anything under control and only a smart strategy + LUCK will decide if you win or not. My thoughts though.

You don't "have to" spent real money on fake coins/bytes if you chose to take your loss. Never spent more than you can afford to lose.

That's one f*cking thrill you got there, but it's hard to chase it again.

Gambling is like drugs, if you can't handle it well, you'll lose everything you got.

Oh there is no chance I could do it again, It was a strategy I was working out on a notepad and put it to the test, that was the result of the first test but luck was definitely what made it happen. I have not tried it again since ?

unbelievable jesus lord congrats

De??oid - June 1, 2020, 11:48 am getting three hearts that too with 500 bets is unbelievable. I think OP is electronics engineer so he knows how to stop the spins at exact time xD. He throws stone on his PC and the wheel stops. jk

And here it is.. I won 125,000 bytes JACKPOT with a 500 bytes spin!!!

Stats of today; \(Click to View\)

< Won a total amount of 159k bytes today
< Reached a total amount 400k+ bytes on all-time winnings

I don't encourage others to gamble, only if you can afford to lose your input.
You are a very lucky person! ?

I am so envious right now after seeing this. Busted all my bytes in blackjack the other day and couldnt also get a red dice with a couple of thousand spins ?

That's why I got 'lucky bytes'. Sacrificed to the Gambling Gods to get this luck haha.
All jokes aside, I wish you the best of luck next time. You can't be unlucky all the time.
