Anybody else getting Dead Island 2? When I was younger I absolutely loved the original I spent hours and hours on PS3 and I'm hyped for it to continue. It's set to release in December of this year (hopefully coronavirus doesn't interfere). I just placed my pre-order, anyone else plan to grab this?

Some of my friends preordered it . i'll wait till it comes out.

I had honestly forgotten about this, I guess I'll be getting a nice surprise come release date.

I hate to inform you, but it's not coming out in December. In fact, it's probably never going to come out.

They released the trailer for the game back in 2014 on YouTube and till this day, there has been absolutely no news or updates about it. The game has been on the Gamestop/Eb Games website saying "Pre-order", for years.

Really? I thought the pre-order option on GameStops website was fairly new. I suppose it's best to cancel the order I placed eons ago lmao.

I'm not too entirely sure that they're still doing this. As stated before the pre-order button has been there for quite some time now and no updates have been confirmed for the game either.

The game has been in the dark for 6 years and has gone through 3 studios thus far.

The 2015 build of Dead Island 2 was leaked a couple months ago.

I've seen the trailer of this games an it seem intriguing. But I don't have much time to play for this kind of games. Occupied by my work, mainly now I play a game like Fifa that didn't take too much of my time.
