Thread: socialbots.tk SCAM / socialbots.ml SCAM, DO NO BUY IT

nCuX0 - May 29, 2020, 7:01 am

Im posting this to warn not only HF members but anyone who search for similar service on google.

I purchased twitch viewer bot on socialbots.ml (.tk now) and they sent me serial key and fake application. Basically this is just a simple GUI, it only asks for your serial key and if you dont have serial key it redirects you to paypal gateway. Serial key is always invalid, no matter what.

After purchase i waited 4 days and have sent several e-mails to them, got the answer only after opening paypal chargeback. They tried to convince me that serial key is not working due to paypal dispute(this is not true becasue ive got literally the same error before disputing payment, my payment was never on hold, they got it instantly on paypal balance). For several days they tried to convince me to close paypal dispute. Few weeks later i lost paypal chargeback, therefor they scammed me for 15 euro.

Below is the link to the software, its not malicious in my opinion, just simple GUI with embedded paypal gateway, but i do not recommend downloading this trash, unless its necessary.

We have registered your key to - *

If your payment is on hold or not complete you will get an invalid error.

This correspond to the payment you have sent. Please do not share this with anyone or you will be banned. If you are having trouble with your serial key please make your payment status is complete. If your payments are pending or on hold your access with be restricted until payments are complete. If you have sent an e-check and it does not come through your IP will be blacklisted from our website and our software.

Note if your payment is on hold or pending for more than 20 days we will blacklist your from our services for wasting our time.

Sorry for any inconvenience.

Please note if you have a dispute open please notify us as we will have to manually mark your payment as complete and set your key to valid when you remove your dispute.

CUSTOMER SUPPORT

Quote:If you had a dispute open and have closed it please let us know as we will have to manually mark your order as valid, our system messed up when a payment is put on hold and taken off hold and the payment is marked as invalid. If your payment is still on hold it will remain invalid until it is off hold and we are notified.

CUSTOMER SUPPORT

Quote:We updated our servers apologies if you were trying to contact us.

We noticed you are registered on our system but your serial key is marked as invalid due to your payment being on hold. This is a final notice that we are clearing all users from our system with incomplete payments on Monday the 18th of May. If your payment is on hold and you have taken it off hold please notify us and we will check your payment status and validate your key if it is complete.

Your key is still registered to - **

Again this is a final notice we will not be adding users back to the system.

Please do not ask us why your key says invalid when your payment is not complete.

Yes, it's true, they did EXACTLY the same thing to me for the Youtube View Bot. Even the emails are the same.

Good to know, thanks for the information and sorry you got scammed.

What did you expect, they use FREE .ml and .tk domains lol, everyone knows for over a decade now that you can't trust those domains simply cuz they are free and mostly used by broke nigerians or kids in general.

Never trust any site using WordPress and .tk is my go-to rule.
