ADP1 - June 4, 2020, 11:20 am

People you idolise, people you see as great people or in some cases perfect people, those people have tried to get me to take my own life. It's crazy that I'm still here.

The UK government, the media, celebrities, they're all corrupt. And they're all trying to offer gay pedophiles peace.

I have been manipulated for so long. And because I'm such a kind-hearted, humble retard I've played into their hands and trusted them every step of the way.

Money doesn't make it right. They should be in prison. And if I can, I will be taking legal action. Because I want justice.

If I can't put a bullet through their heads, or cut their throats, stab them up, I want them to be raped in a prison cell.

The people you look up to in this world are nothing, believe me.

God has proven to be for me in a very big way. I'm just a retarded nerd that hasn't lived. I've been stuck in my room my whole life ratting people/playing games.

I don't know how they can justify the shit what they've done to me. People have died for me to live. For me to have my baby boy.

The devil has done nothing but try and take my blessings away from me. Stop me having a family. Stop me from being happy.

I know if I was in their position, I would be working to make the world better and improve people's lives and bring them happiness.

These people are evil. Believe me the world is a corrupt evil place. If you think I'm lying you have no idea what's happened to me. Things I've never been able to speak about because it brings me too much pain.

I'm still here. I'm still alive. In this state in life. Trying to rat people to get enough money for weed to pass time. Still serving this 'prison sentence' if that's what it is.

It feels like the devil has had me for a long time, and I've looked at the devil as God. God has shown up and shown me what I need to know though, thankfully.

I'm a long way away from God right now, and can't feel happy about being blessed or anything. I'm coming to HF to meet new people and help them where I can. But I'll probably be closed now. Even though this is my first account. We'll see. ?

shakur123 - June 4, 2020, 11:24 am

I dont want to be rude, but if you feel that way maybe you need some kind of reaching to god bro

Cooligan - June 4, 2020, 11:24 am

This is something pretty odd to say when you've "only had one HF account".

I hope you consider a psychologist. Don't drug your life away.

This is good advice. You know, while I was being tortured in a mental hospital, they recommended I do cocaine. They goaded me into it. I hadn't really touched it before. Only very small amounts. But I know I must be careful when I get my money not to go over the top. My heart is already weak from a illness I had. Cocaine has shown me nothing but the devil as well. But it does make me happy. I'll try not to die lol thanks ?

Sad to see you go chief. Looks like the government got to you.

or you're just a multi/troll.

Who can really say?
