As the title says me and a bunch of friends are getting fucked up tonight... FINALLY.

Everything still closed down around you guys?

Anyone else drinking anything?

Hope you make it alive

I am drinking at home currently, even if everything is opening I prefer to quarantine myself a little bit longer, just for being sure I won't get this covid

Nice man, my town kinda said f it and some bars are open inside.

MarvinMalware - June 8, 2020, 8:43 pm

Pretty much everything is still closed near me, we're starting to slowly reopen. I've been steady drinking through this whole pandemic though just at home with some friends, bit more than usual to be honest.

Bars have opened here two weeks now. People go out like before, nothing crazy. What's concerning though, is that the number of cases has increased.

Xtreme™ - June 9, 2020, 1:22 am

All shops and essentials are open here from 7 am to 5 Pm.

But Wineshops and Cigarette stores are still shut to prevent people from gathering, Let alone bars and clubs Haha!

They won't be opening till 2months at least. And I think that is a smart move!

Delivery of Alcohol is allowed though!
