What would you do to make 50K in one year?

Personally I would run a small online agency in marketing/content creation/SEA.

Affiliate marketing would be the easiest especially if we're running stuff like nutra or the shadier Clickbank offers

The easiest job I had that would pay 50K+ in a year was when I was doing car wash sales. I was in a state at the time that had some of the largest car washes in the country, they paid really good to be a service advisor and sell details and stuff.

I don't think I would start a company if I really needed 50k risk free/guaranteed, I'd just go back and work there to reduce risk I guess.

I would try to build a huge email list ,but probably i would do the 50k on the next year as 1 year it will take me to build the email list

Making 50k is easy. It's the profit part that's hard.

My dayjob earns me 50k/year. But in other words I would probably get into social media, or affiliate marketing a blog.
