I wanna know which Antivirus website scanner has best result and accurate result, So, 4 days ago i was scanned X-Virus to Virustotal.com and after 10 hours some important AV like Microsoft, Bitdefender, Kaspersky, Avast & Avira etc. detected as Virus, but after 3 days passed i scan again same X-Virus to kleenscan, Antiscan.me site, X-Virus still not detected by all this Antivirus. Why? are they fake? why not accurate result? or they never update AV definition? Can i still trust them?..Yes i know not to scan server on Virustotal and other distribute sample site. This is for a test result.?

How did you know your file was detected with all that av after 10 hrs? In case you scanned the file on Virustotal again!

Also before blaming other sites you should install one of that AV in your Vmware and see is it really detected or its an detection only from VT.

your really don't know how?????!! Save your scan result link/url, and then anytime you want paste that link to browser and click on 'Reanalyze file' and if file is Scan for the first time, result may different every time you reanalyze file...that's it...hehehe
