Thread: Can Someone tell Where to find leaked databases

NoShit - June 24, 2020, 12:07 am

Hello There,

I am new to this forum and even to hacking. I was just exploring the internet so I wanted to ask if there is a website who gives leaked databases in Internet or Deep Web.

Thanks :)

You can try out intelx.io

Hashes.org is a big one as well. Tons of posted wordlists extracted from database leaks.

If you don't plan on properly indexing and storing databases, I recommend using dehashed.

DeHashed, weleakinfo, and leakpeek are all good options.

there's a lot of wordlists out there but people don't typically share full databases for free

On Hf ? No but in other place ? Yes. You can check this article

<https://school-of-privacy.com/post/184016209866/database-lookup-sites-list> .

But in the end you gonna paid for full acces so your better prepared your wallet.

Well if you want free or cost little (but still large) try check "neighbors community" that they admin avatar is "anime girl"

Listen up fed, that's illegal! I'm not a criminal, but people on here are, and you are just asking for them to bite. If I see a fed in my cyberturf again, I'm calling on the boys in green (green text on black terminal (that means the hackers))!!!

Don't be a fed, put knowledge in your head.

:wq!

Any of these have snapchat leaks?

If I purchased a dehashed premium account, would it be easy to just search for a username and password and get them like on weleakinfo.to ?
