My first HF award.

Feels good.

This Hackuman game is really promising, fun and full of excitement if you will get to dig with it.

A little too much. Once a week I'll do a 1/500 football accumulator. Last week I put around 40 GBP into bustabit, got right up until over 200 then lost it all. Later the day I deposited around 50GBP to try and recoup my loss, ended up getting to about 90, was betting 10k bits at 1.2x and got two busts at 1x which cleaned me.

Don't bet on Bustabit. Ever.

You can do Sports betting. Easier to manage losses and bank roll. ?

I had some spare BTC and was just using it to kill a bit of time, ended up making a bit of money before losing it all, as they say the house always wins

Yup. The longer you play, more are the chances of you losing.

Some easy Stanley bytes I know. ?

You can always post, make threads for more but playing Blackjack is one of the ways of increasing the chances of earning bytes and Dice award at the same time.

If I try Blackjack I will likely lose. I don't generally tend to bet on anything with a fixed RTP%, I was only betting to try and get the award.

And yep, that's me.

Comparing Slots and Blackjack, the House Edge is relatively less in the latter and yes, a fixed RTP.

Slots are easier to automate. ???
